RENCH HEAD TOWARD BERLIN; WAR IS PRACTICALLY DECLARED

What a Difference Two Hundred Years Make!

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,

GERMANY DETERMINED TO DRIVE EVERY ENEMY CIVILIAN FROM COUNTRY

BY PAUL WILLIAMS
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ESSEN, Jan. 16.—The French troops tonight are marching up on Hamm, on the extreme eastern limit of the Ruhr, and, curiously enough, they are headed straight toward Berlin.

Within forty-eight hours every inch of the Ruhr will be ringed in by the French, with garrisons at Wesel, Dorsten, Haltern, Dulman, Munster, Hamm, Unna, Hagen, Barmen and Solingen.

With the occupation of Dortmund at noon today the situation has passed entirely out of the hands of the French mining engineers and under the control of the military. A state of siege was declared at Essen this afternoon to keep the streets clear, but otherwise the valley was quiet.

TO EXPEL FRENCH CIVILIANS

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Berlin government has decided to expel all French civilians from Germany and establish practically a state of war against France, aside from fighting, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Daily Express.

GERMANS WONDERING

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

ESSEN, Jan. 16.—How far the Franco-Belgian occupation will ultimately extend and what other punitive steps are contemplated are questions uppermost in the minds of the Ruhr population because of the new ultimatum delivered to the mine directors at Dusseldorf today. Gen. De Goutte's latest order, which is declared to be final, provides for the resumption of the reparations coal deliveries to France and Belgium not later than tomorrow morning; otherwise Germany will be subjected to further penalties.

The German mine owners say they were not given a hearing at the Dusseldorf meeting and reiterate their intention to abide by the Federal commission's instructions to withhold the deliveries.

While it was revealed at the conference that the occupation of Dortmund was the price paid for the commission's action, French circles in Essen declined to disclose the nature of the additional penalties to be exacted.

MUNSTER NEXT?

Reports are widely current that Munster would be the next large place to fall, yet these are skeptically received because that city is so far outside the so-called Ruhr area.

It is pointed out, however, that Munster possesses great strategic importance as it is one of the big central points of the railroad through to Wesel, which runs parallel to the railroad through Hamm, Dortmund, Bochum, Essen and Dusseldorf. Thus its occupation would aid greatly in effecting control of the Ruhr traffic, as the occupying forces are reported to be planning.

Control stations have been established on the lines about Essen, freight trains being required to stop for fifteen minutes while their papers are inspected. It is feared here that one of the steps in the program of occupation will be to place such a tight ring of patrols about the occupied territory that the red of Germany will be deprived of Ruhr coal. It is stated in German quarters that no more freight cars are being permitted to leave the Ruhr area, and that unoccupied Germany to enter the Ruhr, and hundreds of cars were hurried off during the first stages of the occupation.

FRENCH SEIZE PROPERTY

Begin Requisitioning in Ruhr and Send Coal and Coke Back to France

BY HENRY WALES

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The requisitioning of property in the Ruhr began this morning when French troops, equipped with light machine-guns, were posted in several mines and factories and a number of trainloads of coal and coke which were ready to proceed to the interior of Germany, were seized and headed for France.

The Ruhr mine operators are telegraphing and calling their foreign representatives that they are canceling contracts for coal deliveries on account of their inability to deliver.

Gen. Degoutte and M. Coste, French engineer, this evening convoked the German mine operators to a final meeting for a peaceful solution before physically seizing all properties and arresting any owners or others attempting to hinder the proceedings. The result of the meeting has not yet been received in Paris.

PROHIBITION FORESEEN AS ISSUE OF 1924

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Rumblings and maneuverings in both the Republican and Democratic parties indicate that the abstract question of prohibition and the concrete question of the restoration of beer and light wines are likely to furnish a major, if not a paramount issue, to the presidential campaign of 1924.

If President Harding decides to seek re-election it will be on a dry platform, one judges from his present attitude on the question. His most talked of prospective opponent for the Republican nomination is Senator Johnson, California, who is classed as "moist."

PARADOXICAL RESULTS

With the President and Senator Johnson the outstanding contestants in the prohibition issue might produce some paradoxical results in the Republican primaries.

Mr. Harding will not unlikely prove to be more than a match for Johnson in bone dry progressive western States which otherwise would be expected to carry, while the President might find himself unhorsed in several important wet, conservative eastern States.

Only one life, that of a Japanese woman in Honolulu, is known to be lost, but buildings and wharves suffered heavily, while telephone and telegraph lines and street car services were crippled.

The Matson liner Maui arrived on time this morning and reported having passed the Pacific Steamship Company liner H. P. Alexander at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The Alexander, said the Maui's officers, was making rough weather with her decks awash and the seas climbing as high as the bridge.

Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, distinctly felt the earthquake about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, but all the damage on that island was done by the storm and not by temblors.

The breakwater of Nawiliwili, island of Kauai, suffered from the sale and the combers driven against the beach.

Noon today saw abatement of the storm, which has raged over the territory since Saturday.

The "committee of one thousand" broke up after holding special sessions behind closed doors for two days and one night, and its members are on the way to their respective homes, some of whom came from a distance of 150 miles to assist in the round-up. No further trouble is anticipated.

The Arkansas House of Representatives and Senate today adopted a resolution authorizing Gov. McRae to call out the National Guard and declare martial law at Harrison.

The resolution stated that the State Legislature would make all the appropriations necessary. Last night it was said virtually every striker in Harrison, about 300, has been ejected from the State or placed in jail by the committee.

The body of C. C. Gregor, striker, railway shop worker, found this morning hanging from a railway trestle, tonight was taken by his widow and relatives to his former home for burial. Gregor, it is said, was hanged after he resisted attempts of the "committee of one thousand," which was seeking to identify persons who are

MEMBERS OF MURDER GANG ARE WORRIED

BY ORVILLE DWYER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BASTROP (La.), Jan. 16.—The defense raised its voice in court for the first time today in the open inquiry into the alleged murders of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards by the Ku Klux Klan when William Harvey Todd, an attorney representing two asserted Klansmen, accused of aiding in the murders, objected to questioning of E. N. "Newt" Gray, deacon in a Baptist Church of Morehouse parish.

Gray is one of four men against whom it is stated the State has positive evidence as having been members of the black-hooded mob which kidnapped and murdered Daniel and Richards.

Todd's objection came when State Senator Howard Warren, who is assisting the prosecution, asked Gray:

"Where were you on August 24?"

Before Gray could answer, Todd, who is deaf and heretofore a silent man who has constantly aided in the hearing, through a long electrical device, with a receiving box which stands near the witness and a telephone receiver which fits at the other end of a wire over his ears, was on his feet.

OBJECTION MADE

"Now you heard Warren, who is assisting the prosecution, asked Gray: 'Where were you on August 24?' 'I object to any line of questioning concerning Mr. Gray's activities on that day. Statements have appeared here in the press that the State has positive evidence against him. I want him warned that he need not answer on the grounds that he may incriminate himself.'"

Judge Odum so informed Gray.

MOB SCENE IS TRANQUIL

Arkansas "Committee of One Thousand" Disperses and no Further Trouble is Anticipated

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

HARRISON (Ark.), Jan. 16.—With a suspension of the order of Gov. McRae at Little Rock late today ordering a company of Arkansas National Guardsmen here with a possibility of declaring martial law upon their arrival, Harrison tonight resumed a tranquil appearance after two days of "armed action" in which one man was hanged, another wounded and scores of asserted Missouri and North Arkansas Railway strikers were escorted from town to the Missouri State line accompanied by a "committee of one thousand."

The "committee of one thousand" said to have carried on a campaign of sabotage against the railroad company. Gregor's home was visited by a committee demanding his surrender Monday night. Gregor is asserted to have taken a revolver shot, and escaped from the house in a hall of bullets. Emery, hotel proprietor and local capitalist, who is said to have furnished ball for many strikers arrested and charged with sabotage, was taken from his home and severely whipped.

Night Marshal Rash of Harrison, who was accused of being a strike sympathizer, was seized, tied and flogged, and ordered to leave town. He is said to have left late today "for Paris unknown."

A. C. Russell, United States deputy marshal at Fort Smith, spent today in Harrison investigating the situation. He came here on orders from Atty. Gen. Daugherty.

Russell tonight said he would make his report direct to Mr. Daugherty early tomorrow and intimated he would recommend the railway be placed under Federal guard.

FIND MINT HOLD-UP CLEWS

Denver Police Announce Names of Band and Believe Arrest of All is Near

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

DENVER (Col.), Jan. 16.—Capture of Denver's bank wagon band is near, police announced tonight following a day of sensational developments and revelations by authorities investigating the case.

Apparently lifting the curtain of mystery which has enshrouded the identity of the quintet of gunmen who held up and robbed a Federal Reserve Bank truck in front of the Denver mint on December 15, and escaped with $229,000 in new currency after slaying Charles T. Linton, a guard police announced today the names of the band they believe to have been implicated in the robbery and the location of what is believed to be the frozen hideout of the bandits immediately preceding the hold-up.

The torn fragments of a letter, placed together by detectives, revealed the names of the bandits in a local late Sunday night of the frozen body of John C. Sloan, one of the bandits in an automobile used by the quintet of gunmen in their attack on the bank wagon, were the clues which led to the discovery of the identity of the bandits, according to authorities.

Howard G. Burns, a woman known as Burns's wife; W. S. Gordon, and a woman supposed to have been the wife of Sloan, but who, police declare, is Mrs. Florence Thompson, 20 years of age, wife of Philip Thompson of St.

CRASH WITH TRUCK FATAL

Thrown from an automobile when it crashed into a truck and trailer at midnight last night in a heavy fog near Alameda street and Florence avenue, Wendell Morison, 19 years old, said to have lived on Hope street in Walnut Park, received injuries from which he died while being taken to the Receiving Hospital. Harold Winslow, 339 Rudolph street, Watts, driver of the automobile, told Deputy Sheriff Conly, Harrington and McNulty that the truck carried no lights.

Eight radicals were arrested at midnight last night in a meeting of radicals in the Tajo Building made by Detective Jack Dymond and a squad of officers, and all were lodged in the City Jail on charges of criminal syndicalism. A quantity of literature was seized as evidence and the arrested men were herded out of the building and across the street to the jail. They gave their names as George Koschlan, Garry McBrand, Walter Kalmski, Patrick Murray, Dennis Crowley, Frank Harris, Silvio Russo and John Olson.

PACIFIC SWEEP BY STORM

Storm Predicts High Wind and Rain in Southland Today; Ships in Distress

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—A heavy storm swirling about in a belt extending from the North Pacific to the southern steamer lanes off the California mainland to Honolulu, tumbled shipping and disrupted wireless communication today. It is expected to sweep the Pacific Coast from the Mexican line down to the Gulf of Mexico as the United States Weather Service predicts a thirty-two mile head wind.

The Matsonia reported a succession of head winds and high seas, since leaving Honolulu for San Francisco and was making her way at reduced speed through a thirty-four mile gale. She already is twenty-four hours late.

GASOLINE TAX ISSUE LIVELY

Proposed Levy on Consumers
Center of Interest

Entire Oil Business May be Dragged In

Legislators Seek Means to Safeguard Everybody

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Members of the State Legislature, called on by various civic bodies to try to safeguard the public against a too high cost for gasoline, were casting about today for a bill, or bills, that could be put into shape to do several things.

They wanted, first, to shape things so that no one producing company could get a grip on the industry that would enable it to dictate retail prices. They wanted also to shape up a tax that would not burden users of gasoline, and yet would return a revenue adequate to maintain the highways, so that future bond issues might go exclusively to extending the highway system, and they also sought methods for better control of the undeveloped oil resources of the State, so that from the very inception the industry might be operated with full consideration of the public rights assured to the consumers.

Several bills were in, bearing on these topics. Members said today they looked to see the battle over gasoline production, gasoline taxes, and gasoline prices, become one of the storm centers of the session. Other topics that earlier in the session were discussed as possible centers of interest, were going gradually into the background. One topic that had dropped out of the lobby conversations was division of the State university, to erect the southern branch into a separate institution. It was freely discussed last week, but it was "out" this week.

General agreement by motor-car and truck interests, automobile clubs, and highway associations, indicated to members of the motor vehicle committee that the numerous measures to come before it for consideration would bring little friction into the session. Additional bills were introduced in each house today. Chief among them was an Assembly bill to reduce the salaries of the railroad commissioners to $5000 annually instead of the present figure of $8000. Edwin Baker of Los Angeles, who introduced the measure, said it was one of a series approved by the State administration, and aimed at reduction of cost of government. Mr. Baker also offered a resolution for a proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the number of commissioners from five to three.

The Colorado River compact went before the Legislature for consideration, by means of an Assembly joint resolution by Davis of Imperial county.

Both houses adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow. In the Senate, Lieut.-Gov. Young urged members to introduce their bills without delay, to avoid the jamming of the calendar that has occurred in past years.

LEGISLATOR EKSWARD SUDDENLY TAKEN ILL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Assemblyman Frank Eksward of Burlingame, who has been troubled by injuries to a leg that have existed for some weeks, was taken ill in the State House corridors today and had to be assisted to his room at the hotel. Mr. Eksward's condition was not serious, but friends said that because of his weakened condition it might be several days before he would be able to resume his duties.

SEEK DRY-LAW REPEAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
CARSON CITY (Nev.) Jan. 16.—A bill which would repeal both the initiative and legislative prohibition laws of Nevada was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Scott of Lincoln.

BACHELOR HITS DIVORCE EVIL

Assemblyman Cleveland
Would Have Only Two
Legal Grounds

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Two grounds for divorce, and no more, would be recognized in California if a bill introduced in the Assembly of the Legislature today becomes a law.

The bill, offered by George Cleveland of Watsonville, would repeal all sections of the existing divorce laws except those which make adultery and conviction of felony ground for decrees.

"Some of these lawyers say it won't work," said Mr. Cleveland, "but it has worked in New York for a good many years, and it's working there now." Mr. Cleveland is a bachelor.

Initial Half of Legislature to be Used Up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—The first half of the forty-fifth legislative session now in progress, will be used up by the time the full session opens in March, according to law. In the opinion of experienced members of both houses, during the first week of the session, the constitutional recess would be about the 27th inst., which would have been three weeks from the date of convening.

Members now express the belief that the requirement of the budget law, that a budget be submitted by the Board of Control during the first half of the session, will hold the Legislature here for the fourth week, with the budget completed.

Work on it has been in progress for several weeks, ever since the organization of the board was definitely arranged, but the mass of detailed statistics that must be gathered and arranged has delayed its completion. Members of the board today declined to hazard a guess as to when they could submit it to the Legislature.

SENATORS GET THRILL IN HIGHWAY SMASH

CAR SKIDS OVER BANK AND OTHERS JOIN DUE TO WET PAVEMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Senators A. H. Bred and W. P. Gates, returning from Oakland to Sacramento early Sunday, had an automobile accident that just missed being serious, according to a story that became known today.

Senator Bred was driving his closed car down Rock street, when it skidded on the wet pavement went through a guard fence, and started down a forty-foot bank. Portions of the fence formed a drag and stopped the car, right side up. The Senators climbed out, and as they were congratulating themselves on being alive, a gasoline truck skidded down the hill, and hit the fence near where they had gone through it.

Then a touring car skidded in and hit the gas truck, tearing off the faucets and releasing 100 gallons of gasoline, that poured over the hillside, the Senators, and their car. Traffic backed up both ways, but by warning motorists against using matches or cigarettes, fire was avoided, and the wrecks were cleared away.

LEGISLATOR WARS ON PUNCTURE VINE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—The puncture vine, that straggly, creeping growth that spreads itself across highways and adds to the woes of motorists by cutting through their tires, has found a foe in Assemblyman David C. Williams of LeGrand, who has introduced a bill adding the extermination of the plant pest to the duties of suitable officers in the counties.

SOUTHAND BILL IS PRESENTED

the proposed compromise, each of the county's proposed twenty Assembly districts would contain a population of more than 46,000 and ten proposed Senatorial districts would have an average population in excess of 93,000. The apportionment of 1910 under which the Legislature is now operating gives Los Angeles county fifteen Assembly and eight Senatorial districts.

Mr. Baker proposes to divide into two districts the existing Senatorial district composed of Orange, Riverside and Imperial counties, making Orange county a separate district, and joining Imperial and Riverside in one district. Other Senatorial districts in Southern California are left intact. San Diego county, which has a no Assembly district, would receive an additional member in the lower house. No other Assembly changes are contemplated in Southern California.

GROUPING PLANNED

An example of the attitude of the Baker reapportionment plan to concede much to the population of the dense and central portions of the State is found in his proposed grouping of smaller counties into legislative districts. One group, which consists of the eight counties of Inyo, Mono, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Alpine, Calaveras, Amador and El Dorado, has a combined population of 93,179. It is the opinion of legislators that the occupations and activities in these counties are less diverse than in a single legislative district in Los Angeles or San Francisco.

George C. Stockton, who introduced a reapportionment bill in the Legislature two years ago, plans to submit a slightly changed redistricting plan during the present session, and a skeleton reapportionment bill will be introduced by Senator Rominger, Hart and Johnson of Los Angeles county.

APPEAL TO CONGRESS

Lieut.-Gov. Young, while making no public statement of his attitude on reapportionment of State legislative districts, has written to California members of Congress strongly urging that a Congressional reapportionment bill be enacted before the present Congress adjourns. It is believed that from the new Congressmen will be added to the California delegation at Washington if a redistricting plan is adopted.

Inasmuch as Gov. Richardson has plainly indicated that he will not interfere with the Legislature in its reapportionment proceedings, there seems to be ample ground for expecting a solution of the reapportionment problem before the forty-fifth legislative session adjourns in April or May. Disposition of this important question, of such particular moment to Southern California, was prevented two years ago by the McCabe-Johnson machine and by the refusal of former Gov. Stephens to call a special legislative session to consider the matter.

KLINE PLANS VISIT TO INSTITUTIONS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Chester M. Kline of Riverside county, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly, said today that he planned to devote the constitutional recess of the Legislature, which will extend over thirty days in February and early March, to making a tour of State institutions with a view to learning at first hand their needs and requirements for the ensuing biennium.

The law provides that the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee may make such a tour, and that his report is to be a part of the legislative expense fund. Last session T. M. Wright was chairman of the committee and he carried out this custom.

Mr. Kline said he probably would devote most of his time to the institutions in the northern part of the State as he had already a first-hand acquaintance with most of those in the Southland, near his home.

Gland Treatment "Rejuvenates" Broker

"I'm just as young as I used to be, and it's all due to gland pills. Here I am 72, and I feel just as spry and full of vim and pep as if I were only 30 or 40."

This testimony to the virtue of gland treatment was voiced recently by Robert George Laws, a retired London stock broker, during a short visit to this country. "I was in the Kingston hospital in London when I first tried the tablets," said Mr. Laws. "After I had taken the fifteenth tablet I left the hospital and haven't been back since. I still take a tablet now and then, and I think they are the real fountain of youth."

Such treatment is now obtainable in the form of Glandogen, a highly concentrated glandular tonic prepared from the glands of healthy young animals. Glandogen has had remarkable success with thousands of people who have used it. ## Bill Provides New Route Into Yosemite Valley

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Assemblyman David C. Williams of Mariposa county today introduced a bill for the improvement of sixteen miles of highway from Ebbettsburg to El Portal, the river gate to the Yosemite Valley. The new road, if approved, would continue an existing highway from the floor of the San Joaquin Valley, that now ends at Ebbettsburg.

Mr. Williams said the road would have to be cut through rock as it left Ebbettsburg, and one bridge would be necessary, but that after about a mile of rock work it would follow a river grade into the park. If it were built, it would open an all-year road into the park, he said, and would permit automobiles to enter without going over the mountains which surround the park. At present, there are two roads usually traveled, both taking the users to a point above the valley floor, and then dropping into the park. There is also a road from the east, known as the Tioga Pass Road, but it goes through an even more mountainous stretch, and is open only a few weeks in each year. Shows block it most of the time.

From El Portal there is now a wide road into the valley, that follows along the Merced River, and can be taken "on high" by the average automobile.

VALLEY SUPERVISORS NAME NEW OFFICERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
MODESTO, Jan. 16.—Supervisor V. D. Whitmore of Stanislaus county, was elected president of the San Joaquin Valley Supervisors' Association at its quarterly meeting here today. Robert Lechard, member of the Fresno County Board of Supervisors, was named vice-president and Supervisor Stanley Abel of Kern county, secretary-treasurer.

The association endorsed a budget for the apportionment of funds from the member counties to publish 100,000 booklets to advertise the San Joaquin Valley.

HUNTINGTON
PASADENA
America's Finest Resort Hotel
Under the personal direction of D. M. Linnard

Dear Henry—
I was surprised to learn that the Huntington, Pasadena, has more rooms than all other Southern California resort hotels combined and that Pasadena is only thirty minutes' ride from Los Angeles, which makes it better than being in the larger city, with its noise and traffic problems. The wonderful outdoor and indoor entertainment features at each hotel are open to guests of the other three. There are five fine golf courses within a radius of three miles, splendid tennis courts, children's playgrounds, schools and hostesses—everything imaginable, in fact, to make life worth while for the whole family.

ARGUMENTS END ON CAPPER BILL

Final Senate Action Looked for Today

Not Real Aid to Farmers, is View of Several

Of No Use to Farmers, States Senator Brookhart

(BY A. P. MORTIMER)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Consideration of the Capper farm-credits bill was nearly completed today by the Senate, but final action went over until tomorrow, with the other credit measure, the Lenroot-Anderson bill, scheduled to be taken up immediately after its disposal.

Little criticism of the principles of the Capper bill was voiced in today's discussion, although its efficacy was questioned by some Republicans, as well as Democrats. Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, said he hoped it would not prevent enactment of "real" farm-credits legislation, declaring the co-operative credit associations proposed would not be of much aid to agriculture, except live-stock growers.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, described the bill as "a measure for farmer relief" and declared it was the playing of the Capper bill in the Senate. The new title is based on the co-operative credit association principle of the bill.

Senator Norbeck said the bill was "intended to take care of big cattle concerns of the West," but did not aid the small farmer. Chairmen of the Federal Reserve System loaned for the extension of the Federal Reserve System loans to be open to all farmers, large and small.

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, declared that the bill would be of no value to farmers generally, but he added that it might aid farmers of the West. The bill, he said, would not meet the "purpose of the farm movement," and advised farmers to co-operate credit organizations controlled by farmers and not bankers. He asserted that not one bank in Iowa "has this idea of the business of agriculture." Farmers, he added, contributed about $4,000,000 of the Federal Reserve System's deposits and obtained loans from it aggregating only $1,900,000,000, but were denied credit they needed.

It may be interesting at this point to move forward a little and take a glance at the future of suggestion. I have no doubt in my mind that the principles of suggestion are now firmly established and that a sound basis for their practical application has been prepared. That application is bound to become more and more generalized as the principles become more widely known, especially among medical practitioners. I cannot too strongly insist that suggestion, so far from being in conflict with modern science, is perfectly in harmony with it and is destined to develop into one of the most powerful curative elements of the disposal of physicians.

There was a period of considerable activity in psychological research at the end of the last century, when Charcot and the famous Salpêtrière schools took the lead in proclaiming the curative possibilities of idea or suggestion. Liebau and Bernheim at Nancy were also in the vanguard of the same movement.

Then followed a spell of skepticism and materialism. Thought was declared to be nothing but a secretion of the brain and consciousness a mere mass of sensations condemned to be the plaything of circumstances. Our lives were irrevocably based on science, and it was of no avail to fight against the legacy of the past. This conception colored the philosophy of the day and transformed the pessimists and made doctors fatalists. Psychology seemed to be severed completely from philosophy. Ideas were regarded as mere effects and incapable of ever being causes.

Dualism and pessimism gained the minds of the intellectual classes and percolated into the masses. But the reaction was at hand. Soon after the war a new and saner philosophy emerged with Bergson and others to reveal the inner moral forces at our own command which had been so long ignored or neglected. If I mention myself here it is simply to say that I have been working more than to demonstrate the possibility for everyone of utilizing for his physical and moral well-being the forces of the subconscious revealed by the diffused abstract work of the new school of philosophy. I have carried on the work, but I think I may say that the basis of a new practical philosophy with definite therapeutic application has now been laid. It is admitted that the human mind is a much greater force than was believed formerly. Facts—cures obtained by suggestion and suggestion in cases even of organic diseases—have come to prove the efficacy of the idea in the treatment of bodily ills.

RIPE FOR GENERAL USE
From the purely experimental stage the doctrine of autosuggestion is ripe enough to enter the domain of universal application. Already in Paris it is being carried out in the treatment of a big scientific movement which is said to grow rapidly under the leadership of a group of enthusiastic members of the medical faculty, philosophers and savants. An institute for the teaching and practice of autosuggestion has been founded and I hope to see others created in other cities in all parts of the world. One will soon be established in New York. The Paris institute is a corps of trained men and women, some belonging to the medical profession, like my disciples, and some laymen, like Dr. Veriot, constitute a permanent teaching staff whose mission is to spread by the use of experiments the knowledge of the so-called mysterious forces which we have used them to the interests of their own health.

Autosuggestion, then, is becoming more and more an element of the first order in the domain of therapeutics as well as in those of sociology and education. The creation of institutes such as that of Paris will, I am convinced, be a powerful stimulus to the study of the wonderful resources of our subconscious.

It is a well-known fact that crime is contagious. From time to time every country has crime waves or epidemics to record. Simply because the mind is influenced by suggestion, in a more or less degree according to the degree of sensitivity or strength of character of the individual. In France some time ago the papers were full of details of a daring train robbery. Immediately afterward there was a repetition of the crime perpetrated in exactly the same manner and within a fortnight five or six similar train assaults took place, the details of execution being identical in all cases. The epidemic was the result of suggestion.

Only a week or so ago Paris had a strange and striking illustration of the power of suggestion and autosuggestion, the one provoking the other and translating them into acts. A maniac picked a woman shopping in a dry-goods store, with a needle or a spring injecting some liquid which caused a swelling of the part affected (usually the arm or hip). The papers published a few lines about the next day two or three other similar cases were reported. The number continued to grow till the victims were counted in all cases. The epidemic was created by the "prickers" autosuggestion created the victims, numbers of women being led by sheer imagination to believe themselves pricked and to feel the pain of a sudden jab. Curiously enough there was a similar epidemic in the time of Louis XV.

Another example of crime contagion is to be found in the "scalping" series in the seventeenth century, when for a certain period not a day passed without one or more women being shorn of their hair by madmen. Twenty years ago, there was a similar epidemic in my country.

The cinema—the movie—again must be regarded in some respects as a school of crime by reason of the terrible effects of suggestion on ill-balanced or unformed minds. And the craze of the Nick Carter style of story has been responsible for the wrecking of many young lives in my country.

IDEA EVERYTHING
The role of suggestion in provoking crime being thus demonstrated it is logical to assume that suggestion is equally effective as an arm against crime. The idea is everything, since it carries the germ of action. There is vast scope for suggestion in reformatories. It can be practiced collectively. Sown indiscriminately at first, the good ground would soon be discovered by its fruit. Then the good should be separated from the bad, for by virtue of the eternal law of the contagion of ideas, the subjects influenced by the suggestions would strengthen each other while the neighborhood of the refractory ones would tend to add to their resistance to good suggestions.

To people who are if vice really can be conquered I answer emphatically yes. By suggestion, long and oft-repeated, the character can be modified, that education by suggestion does modify the character is that the instinct of self-preservation—the strongest of all—can be overcome. The many acts of sublime and total self-sacrifice in favor of others recorded by every epoch.

HAS POSITIVE PART
Suggestion acts as a break to bad instincts; that is its negative role. It has a positive part to play in acting as a propelling force for good impulses. Applied systematically, scientifically, there is no doubt that large numbers of criminals branded as "criminals" could be reclaimed, and thousands of outcasts transformed into clean thinking, clean-living and useful citizens.

This is naturally especially true in regard to the young, with their keen, vigorous imagination open to every impression. Surely it is the duty of those in authority to see that their imagination be fed with something better than the drama of crime. The susceptibility of youth is such that it is easy (save in the fortunately rare cases of wholly bad characters) to create vivid images or ideas of good actions in their minds. Once anchored in the subconscious they develop and eventually externalize themselves in acts.

FOIL GIRL'S EFFORTS TO END IT ALL
Beautiful Young Woman at Long Beach Fights to Jump Into Ocean

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Jan. 16.—Rescued as she was about to hurl herself into the ocean, a beautiful young woman, well dressed and about 34 years of age, refused to divulge her identity or any information concerning herself to the police.

After her attempt to take her own life, she was quizzed for two hours at the police station concerning her identity and motives. All she would say was: "All men are beasts." She swore to the officers that when they released her she would finish her interrupted attempt.

She owes her life to C. C. Campbell and three members of the Naval patrol, Chief Quartermaster R. W. Coffey, E. J. Anderson and E. Frank, all of the U.S.N. Campbell saw her try to climb through the railing on a pier under the Jack Rabbit Hotel, and spoke to her in an effort to dissuade her. She tore herself away from him, and ran to the first-aid pier, where she was taken through the railing on the lower deck, with Campbell close behind her.

As she reached the water's edge, and was preparing to jump, Campbell grabbed her. The three naval men came to his assistance, and the four took the young woman to the police station.

She is said to have torn up a letter and strewn the pieces on the water as she made ready to leap. No marks of identification were on her clothing.

THE MISTAKES OF THE KAISER

AN ANSWER TO THE KAISER'S MEMOIRS

BY RENE VIVIANI

Premier of France When the War Broke Out
(Copyright, 1922, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

KAISER'S MEMOIRS A CONFESSION

How can the Kaiser seek to make people believe that he was, so to speak, led by others without knowledge of things on his own part, when, by his own statement, he made, on all dispatches, marginal notes alike imperious and insulting in tone for all those who did not seem to understand what he wanted?

In these notes he incited to violence, prevented smoothing down of difficulties, coerced his ambassadors to silence when they wished to speak. He prevented his ambassador at Vienna from preaching calm and deemed that it was never too soon to strike Serbia, and then, like a raving maniac whose cries are heard from behind the bars, he insulted England, insulted Italy, threatened the whole world! How, after having written such things and being aware that they are known, can he have the audacity to present himself to the world in the guise of a gentle, quiet man, who visited museums, admired antiquities, had no other taste but a taste for travel and was the last of all the inhabitants of his empire to learn what was happening?

NOT MERE LYING

That is not mere lying—it is absolute blindness in the midst of lying, since the man writing this knows that, three years ago, his real nature was disclosed and that he cannot make it disappear. Just think, then, how much credit is to be attached to the assertions of this man, how much one can believe him, how well-founded are his statements, how valuable is his narrative, how worthy of trust from the reader are his assertions!

This man would have had to bear the burden of responsibility for the war, even if he had not daily vented the sovereign power which he claimed to exercise by the grace of God, which he enforced far from and above the rest of mankind, despising earth and exalting himself to equality with Heaven.

What does he say in these memoirs of his, which sound like the faltering declarations of an accused man who sees on the table of the court the incriminating evidence of his crime, who hears the still confused murmuring of the witnesses about to be called, who, aware that his crime is known, knows that he must reply to questions? He says that he would like to have been tried by a neutral tribunal, at The Hague, for instance, and that he has not accepted the verdict of the nations handed together in victory. Really, such mockery goes too far; if there be one man who ought to understand that he should not have recourse to joking, that the position in which he finds himself does not justify it, it is certainly he!

AFTER WAR OF 1870

First, one might remind him of the traditions of Germany, those traditions which were imposed upon us in 1871. We endured the Treaty of Frankfurt, which, after a war lasting five months and absolutely not to be compared with the great war imposed upon us an indemnity of five billion francs (which, reckoned at the present rate of money value, was extremely high); we accepted the occupation of forty-five of our departments until payment had been made, and stole from us Alsace and Lorraine. What tribunal did the grandfather of the Kaiser summon the French nation?

Unable, since the world was looking on, to ignore the initiative taken in 1891 by Czar Nicholas, he did everything to cause the failure of that noble and belated endeavor. His emissaries confused the debates, filled them with heavy analyses, made objections at every step.

On the eve of the war, when everything might yet have been saved (since mobilizations are merely measures for defense, when, as in the case of that of Russia, they go hand in hand with an appeal for peace), when Czar Nicholas sent him a supreme appeal on July 29th, begging him, for the sake of the world, to have the matter arbitrated by the Hague Tribunal, he answered not one word. In the threatening dispatch whereby he answered this supreme bid for peace, and which brought about Russian mobilization, he made no allusion to this proposal. Now he tells us that it was too late—with what painful amazement the world listens while he avers that, on July 30th, it was too late to stop military preparations by summoning the nations before the Hague Tribunal!

OMISSION IN BOOK

But so ashamed was he of his own dispatch that he made no mention, in the first White Book, of that appeal to humanity, hurled over the Huns already bristling with weapons, by another Emperor! And now this sinister hero tells us that The Hague Tribunal has jurisdiction for trying his emissaries, while, at the same time, he has just presented to us One may assume that he would not have said anything different from what is in them, since, in 1922, all he has to give us is the deplorable cacophony and the still more deplorable text of his writings. In any event, he would have found a way to be ridiculous and, at the same time, detestable. Really, it is necessary to answer

REDICULOUS CLAIMS

The military attaché at Tokio called attention in April 1913 and some military attachés in Russia in March 1914 to certain statements tending to show that war was going to break out, and Japanese officers at army messes made similar statements at the same time. Is it not absurd that remarks which cannot be investigated, and which may have been garbled or invented, which, even if true, compromise nobody, should be considered as causes for waging war? And what sort of thing was being said at that time by German officers at German army messes, amid riotous noise, drink flowing plentifully, and songs shaking the rafters?—ah, at such gatherings, those present thought solely of idyllic peace, in spite of the fact that the German army, already swollen to colossal proportions, was still further increased in 1913 and 1914.

And the plan of invasion, sent to the Kaiser by the German General Staff, which took for granted the march through Belgium—that, doubtless, was simply a bit of table talk?

PRINCIPLES QUOTED

Then come quotations from two women, who may or may not have disappeared from the scene during the tempest of war—the daughters of the King of Montenegro, Russian Princesses, who said to M. Poincaré, French Ambassador at St. Petersburg, on July 23, 1914, that their father had told them that war was possible. That was when the German Emperor and the Emperor of Austria had jointly drawn up the insulting ultimatum to Serbia, knowing that it meant war, a war which they had foreseen was coming on July 23. After all, was it only women who were talking about war on the 23 of July?

I pass over what the Kaiser relates about the Capote, drawn from an American report of 1915; also his crowning piece of stupidity relating to the findings by Germans in France. In 1915, of English military uniforms brought there, he says, long before, thus proving that England and France were in agreement for fighting Germany.

Is it possible to answer all this sort of thing?

Of course, the German Emperor tells for the twentieth time that the Emperor of Russia, much impressed by his (the Kaiser's) dispatches, had given the order to demobilize on July 23th, and that the Russian Chief of Staff disobeyed this order. Things did not happen as the Kaiser says they did.

WAR CLOUD IN BALKANS THICKENING

Envoys of Little Entente Prepare Ultimatum That Hungry Disarm

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
(Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.)

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The war clouds over the Balkans are thickening as the ambassadors of the Little Entente prepare to deliver an ultimatum to Budapest demanding that Hungary cease arming and disband organizations mobilized for an anticipated war. It is declared the Little Entente is prepared to back its demands by force of arms.

From Belgrade it is reported the heads of the government held a long conference yesterday over the proposed steps against Hungary while in Bucharest it was said Bulgaria had begun partial mobilization and proclaimed martial law.

Transylvania newspapers, in publishing the mobilization order, blamed Hungary for all the steps on the ground that Hungary had massed troops on the border.

PHOENIX-LOS ANGELES AIR SERVICE PLANNED

PHOENIX, Jan. 16.—Under organization is a corporation which proposes to furnish regular service in airplanes, transportation on three routes, from Phoenix to Los Angeles, to El Paso and to Globe and Miami. The organizers, Rodgers and Hansen, have on plane available, but are planning purchase of large machines, each with capacity for about a dozen passengers.

FRENCH TO RAZE EHRENBREITSTEIN

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
COBLENZ, Jan. 16.—Ehrenbreitstein, an old fortress overlooking Coblenz, which the Americans have refused consistently to tear down, will be leveled by the French as soon as the armistice leaves. The pile is without military importance, and actually is a menace to troops inside if subjected to modern artillery fire. The Germans from the fortress under the river to Coblenz long since have been blocked up.

METHODIST BISHOPS AID GREEK REFORM

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, Jan. 16.—A number of Methodist bishops, including Bishops Blake of Paris, Nelson of Zurich and East of Copenhagen, are going to Russia early in February to sit with the executive council of the Greek Orthodox Church, which is now in the hands of the reformers, to help it draw up an entirely new church organization.

MAILMAN ACCUSED OF THEFT

Pilfering of Letters for Cash Inclosures Charged to Bay City Carrier

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—William J. Hanekamp, 49 years of age, for the last thirty years a letter carrier out of the ferry post-office station, was arrested by postal inspectors on a charge of pilfering letters said to have contained money sent to patrons on his route.

Hanekamp at the time of his arrest was "sorting" mail for his route on Market street, including the territory along Montgomery street, and was seen to open a letter and extract from it two bills, according to the postal inspectors, who were watching him, secreted the bills in one of his shoes, where they were found later by the inspectors.

Hanekamp told the authorities that he was endeavoring to purchase a home on the installment plan and that during the last six months he defaulted in the payments. To meet those, he confessed, he began to steal from mail entrusted to his care.

As a result of his arrest on a charge of stealing, Hanekamp loses his right to a pension that would be due him within the next two months.

France Soon to Pass Upon Pacific Pact

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
PARIS, Jan. 16.—Ratification of the Washington Conference agreement for the Pacific is recommended in the report submitted today by Deputy Raynaldy, the reporter named by the subcommission on foreign affairs of the Chamber of Deputies to draft a report on the pact.

The subcommission after listening to Deputy Raynaldy's written discussion of the subject, referred the report to the full commission which will meet, probably Thursday, to act upon it.

Raynaldy's report calls for unqualified ratification. It is certain that the full commission will approve the report and present it to the Chamber of Deputies as soon as the other pressing legislation is out of the way.

Ile of Pines Women Do Not Like Cuban Proposal; Havana Students Riot

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
HAVANA, Jan. 16.—A delegation of three women from the Isle of Pines is en route to Washington to dissuade the Senate from ratifying the treaty giving the Isle of Pines to Cuba.

Americans on the Island were encouraged by the Senate resolution instructing the State Department to inform the Senate of America's holdings on the Isle of Pines.

Students of the National University, who are striking to obtain the dismissal of an unpopular professor, on learning yesterday the University Assembly Hall was about to be closed to prevent mass meetings, rushed the university and turned out the custodians. They now are holding the building with armed guards.

War Debt Commissions Halt
in Discussions

British Mission Seeking
Added Instruction

Three Per Cent Considered
Too Low by Americans

(BY A. P. MORTIMER)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The American and British debt commissions were unable today to bring into accord their views as to the terms of the settlement of Great Britain's war debt to the United States. Further negotiations were suspended until Thursday with the British meantime seeking additional instructions from their government.

The subject matter of the conversations at today's joint session was guarded by both the Americans and the British, but there were indications that the present difference had to do largely with the question of interest rate. It was reported that the British mission had suggested three per cent and that this had been approved yesterday by the British cabinet, which had before it an account of the progress of the negotiations. It was learned authoritatively that at previous sessions there had been discussion of the statement that three per cent was the average rate of government loans in normal times and that the figures examined by the commissions had appeared to support this contention. Since this figure is considerably below the rate of interest now paid by the American government on the money borrowed and advanced to Great Britain, however, some members at least of the American commission were represented as feeling that they hardly would be justified in recommending such a figure to Congress.

While the state of negotiations after today's session was described officially as practically the same as that obtaining after the previous meeting on last Friday, both the American and British expressed hope of an agreement in principle before the end of the present conversations. The refunding negotiations were the subject of a brief discussion today both in the Senate and House. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, said that considering Great Britain's ability to "make loans to other nations and support the largest navy in the world," to invest "hundreds of millions in oil developments" she was able to pay the United States. Representative Poy, Democrat, North Carolina, commending the announced determination of the British government to pay its debt, declared in the House that the American commission should be vested with the largest powers of adjustment, reserving the one condition that there be no cancellation of any part of the debt.

Split Widened to Veritable Chasm; Vernon Is Given Equal Territorial Rights With Los Angeles

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 16.—The Oakland, Los Angeles, Salt Lake and Portland baseball clubs of the Pacific Coast League, in protest at steam-roller tactics and alleged illegal maneuvers by William H. McCarthy as president, abruptly terminated the annual league meeting by bolting from it. Left without a quorum, President McCarthy and the four club representatives remaining with him almost immediately adjourned. Thus ended probably the most stormy meeting in the whole history of the Coast League. There being nothing else to do, McCarthy and his adherents hit for home by the first trains, though their program was not completed.

out of order, but it goes into the minutes. Thereupon, McCarthy put the question on the Vernon resolution. Sacramento, San Francisco, Vernon and Seattle voted
"aye," Los Angeles, Portland, Salt Lake and Oakland declined to vote, thus obviating a tie. The vote thus far stood four to nothing.
Five needed to carry. McCarthy ruled that he could vote just as if there were a tie, voted "aye," and declared it carried.

LITTLE ARGUMENT
Then ensued the following little colloquy between Mr. Ewing and
Mr. McCarthy:
Mr. Ewing.—Inasmuch as my time is limited, I know I will be needed here no longer today. I am going to introduce a motion
now that the president be authorized to transact all the business of the league inasmuch as he has arrogantly taken unto himself powers so to do. I am not going to sit here and be steam-rolled by you, (the president) or anyone else.

EWING TAKES HAT
Mr. Ewing then seized his hat and stalked from the room.
Bill Klepper of Portland (unofficially present) grabbed his hat and likewise went out of there.
So did Bill Lane and Jack Cook of Salt Lake, Del Howard and Herbert McFarland of Oakland, and Charley Lockard and Boots Weber of Los Angeles.
They all went from there and stood not on the order of their going.

Before the last flying coat tail had cleared the room, carrying a quorum with him, Charley Graham with presence of mind, nominated Law Moreland of Sacramento and Jim Boldt of Seattle as league vice-presidents. This evidently was intended as an offset to an unguard-ed motion unanimously adopted the day before making Bill Lane vice-president. With no other vice-presidents.

TROJANS LOSE TO MERCURIES

Athletic Club Quintet Wins
Game, 21 to 16

Varsity Five Handicapped by Absence of Star

Fresh Downs Hollywood
High Team, 39 to 16

University of Southern California's speedy basketball crew lost a hard fought tilt to the Los Angeles Athletic Club quintet last night before a large crowd in the Trojan pavilion. The score was 21 to 16.

The Trojan squad was playing under a handicap as its stellar running guard, Charles Bone, was not able to play because of injury. However, the U. S. C. quintet managed to give the Mercury crew a real scrap and players of both teams knew they had been in a battle.

Olney, Laswell and Wilson accounted for most of the L. A. C. team's points, the former sending the leather pellet through the hoop for three long field goals. Las-well and Slaghter did some clever floor work. For the University of Southern California quintet Wayne and White were responsible for most of the scores. Wayne dropped in two pretty baskets from the field, while White tossed in a goal
and three free throws.

After the game Coach Turner said that he was satisfied with his team's showing and that the Trojans' holding the Mercuries to such a close score pleased him very much.

In the preliminary contest the University of Southern California
freshmen trimmed the Hollywood High five, 29 to 16. Rico, at center, featured for the Trojan babies scoring 22 points. Coach Johnson used fifteen men on the Hollywood team. The lineup for the L. A.
A. C. U. S. C. game follows:

SCORE BY HALVES
U. S. C. 1st 11 2nd 10 3rd 10 4th 10
Total 41

Semipros Put on Hot Races
for Pennants

With the teams in the County League all bunched up for first place and with the second half of the season starting Sunday, local semipro ball fans are peppering up wondering who will be champs in the two speedy circuits.

Norwalk is occupying first place in the race for the County League pennant while the end of the first half finds the L.
A. Chinese entrenched in first place in the City League.

The speedy Independent Order of Foresters club is running the Norwalkers a tough race for honors in the County loop and winners of the singles and doubles. The close of the season will find the L. O. F. on top.

Whether Norwalk or the L. O. F.
winners will win remains mostly in the hands of the two clubs' pitchers Kough and Fierke. Both have been going great guns and winning consistently.

Lee On's steady twirling, coupled with the speedy twirling of the Chinese players, is in a big measure responsible for the oriental nine's top position. The New Method, Harper-Reynolds, and Kant-Skore Pistons are runner-ups in the City League. The Greater Southern California Baseball Association will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night at A. G.
Spaulding and Bros. sport store.

ALHAMBRA BANTAMS TRIM TIGER SQUAD

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SOUTH PASADENA, Jan. 16.—
Alhambra High School light-weight basketball team continued its victorious run over the teams of the Central League. South Pasadena was taken into camp to the tune of 19-5 at the South Pasadena High gym today.

Inability of the Tiger quintet to break up the five man defense of the Moor lightweights proved their defeat. The lineup follows:

TROJAN PREP SQUAD
TRIMS MONTEBELLO

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MONTEBELLO, Jan. 16.—The University of Southern California
prep school light-weight basketball squad took a 14 to 10 victory over the local school 150-pound quintet after a closely contested struggle played here today. Johnny Wil-lams, scoring eight points, was the star of the game. Following are the lineups:

won as runner-up in the national championship tournament at Forest Hills, L. I., last summer. (Keystone photo.)

TENNIS TOURNAMENT SUNDAY

Play will commence Saturday in the Pasadena invitational tennis championship, which promises to be one of the largest tournaments of the coming year. Although the tournament is strictly an invitational affair and limited to residents of Pasadena and vicinity, the event has attracted one of the best entry lists assembled for a local tournament.

Cliff Herd, former national clay court champion, is favored to win the open singles event, but will have plenty of competition with such players entered as "Win"
Mace, Herb Hahn, Harold Godshall, Stanley Welsh, Kenneth Hawks, Bob Allen, Paul Pickett,
Clarence Barker, Miles Reinke,
Harold Dickerson and other well-known stars entered.

The entry of Howard Robinson, intermountain champion, has created a lot of interest as there will be a chance to compare tennis as played in mountain States with that played on the Pacific Coast.
Robinson will also play in the doubles event.

The doubles should afford considerable excitement as there are several evenly matched clubs who will battle for the beautiful tennis bags which have been selected by the Pasadena Tennis Club for the winners of the singles and doubles. The four teams favored to meet in the semifinal round are Maurice McLoughlin and Kenneth
Hawks, Harold Godshall and Wyn
Mace, Cliff Herd and Bob Allen and Horace Donnell and Herb Hahn.
Although Clarence Barker and Miles Reinke, Pickett and Myers,
Chapman and Scofield, Dickenson and partner and Welsh and partner are sure to make it warm for the favorites.

Local prognosticators are prone to predict victory for Lincoln in both of tomorrow's events. However, Coach Daugherty's men may surprise both the "know-it-alls" and the Emancipator teams. The battle between the heavy-weight squad is expected to provide most of the excitement, as the Lincoln midgits appear too strong for the Kiteflyer babes.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—Miss Helen Wills, 16-year-old tennis star extraordinary, will in all prob- ability meet Southern Califor- nia's best women tennis play- ers twice, at least, on hard courts this year, once at the Ojai tournament in March and again a couple of weeks later at the annual tournament held on the courts of the Montecito Club here.

Last year Miss Wills played at the Santa Barbara tournament, but did not appear at Ojai. This year no effort is to be spared to make it possible for the popular youngster to play both tournaments.

Miss Wills herself is known to be keen for plenty of competition on the Coast before she makes her third eastern invasion and, unless the plans now under way fall through, she will appear at both tournaments.
Miss Wills has to come south to get any competition from tennis players of her own sex. Last year she walked through all her tournaments around San Francisco and Berkeley without getting any practice, her hardest match
being a victory over Mrs. J.
C. Cushing, 6-2, 6-1.

When she came to Santa Barbara she had her first battle with Mrs. W. M. Henry of Los Angeles in the semifinal, winning 6-4, 6-3. In the final round she was beaten by Miss Mary K. Browne in a close and thrilling match, Mrs.
May Burtis Bundy, who had beaten Miss Browne previously, was unable to attend
the local tournament.

This year it is hoped that Miss Wills and all the southern women, including Mrs.
Bundy, Miss Browne, Mrs.
Henry, Miss Williams and Miss Grieve, will be on hand at both tournaments, and it is hoped also that Mrs. Cushing, who possibly the two McCune sisters from Berkeley will play in both tournaments.

champion, to scrap

Don Davis, ex-navy champ, has been discharged from the Navy and is now training in Los Angeles in preparation to meeting any featherweight or welterweight in the country. Davis wants to show fight fans of the city what he can do before he leaves for the north.

a Birmingham (Eng.) spur maker who began by making the branches of the spur hollow and filling the hollow with a steel rod, then gradually changing until he finally made the iron spur and coated it with silver.

HANLON SWINGS TO YOUTH

Orioles' Chief Starts a Revolution in National game;
How Jennings Improved His Batting

"MY THIRTY YEARS IN BASEBALL"

BY JOHN J. MCGRAW

Manager of New York Giants, World Baseball Champion, 1921-1922

When we showed up at New Orleans in the spring of 1923 for training I got an inkling of what Ned Hanlon was trying to do in the way of building up a ball club. It was very clear to me that he was seeking youth and spirit. Up to that time—and that is often true today—baseball people hesitated to try anything new. Veterans can be counted on to do the right thing—at any rate, the usual thing—and there is a tendency to let them go along.

But managers, in this sense of security, go too far. They do not realize that the old-timers are slipping; do not see the necessity of young blood soon enough. In other words, it is a human failing to follow the line of least resistance. The work of building is tedious and nerve-racking. To avoid it is human.

Ned Hanlon evidently had made up his mind to get rid of all these old-timers. He was trying to get a new team on the big league. He had been impressed by the eagerness and ambition of kids like Jennings and myself. Now Gene is entertaining thoughts of entering the movie field.

So, when we arrived at New Orleans we found another young fellow, Joe Kelley. Joe had come from Baltimore in exchange for George Van Halren, the deposed leader of the Orioles. Joe was a wonderful ball player and a wonderful manager. He was fast and could hit. Like Jennings and myself, he also thought and dreamed baseball.

SMACKS BALL

The first day of practice Jennings took up to the plate, stepped into the ball and smacked it for a single. Hanlon was surprised to see that he did not pull the bat from the plate, as had been his falling the year before. We had corrected that fault during the winter at St. Bonaventure College.

Jennings had hit but little over .300, but had been retained on account of his wonderful fielding. He had the habit of pulling away with his forward foot when swinging at the ball. In baseball we taught the batter to step on to the plate, the idea being that a player will pull so far away as to step on the bench. This pull away really draws the bat so far from the plate that it is practically impossible to meet the ball squarely. We talked this over for hours. Finally I hit on a scheme that Jennings agreed to try.

HAD TO STEP

In the college cage I placed Jennings up against the screen so that he could not see the ball. He pitched to him. Being unable to see the ball, he had to step on to the plate. The foot instead of going off to one side, would step directly forward. This was very awkward. We talked this over for hours. Finally I hit on a scheme that Jennings agreed to try.

Record Tijuana Price Brought by Ten Buttons

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—Ten Buttons, speedy, Maryland horse, after winning the six furlong race for 3-year-olds and up at Tijuana this afternoon, was claimed by C. B. Irwin for $5000, the highest price ever recorded in such a race at the border track.

CHOPS BALL

In these days we practiced the short, sharp chop at the ball instead of the long swing. Of course, we did not hit the ball with the bat, but with the chop. This style of batting was run by many more base hits and consequently won many more games.

FINED FOR HOMER

Awful back, you will recall, I told of having fined Sammy Strang $50 for hitting a home run when he was out of the game. That is an example of the difference in methods. Today if a player hits a home run when he is out of the game, he would have been fined a great deal more.

AND A PAIR MADE IT A FULL HOUSE

"Every day, in every way, the world gets more surprising and surprising," spoke Leo Livernash, coach of the Lincoln High basketball team, yesterday after he recovered from the announcement that his wife had given birth to twins boys at the Southside Hospital, Huntington Park.

TIME WASTED

"I may not find a good one," he said to me, "but I won't dig up any bad ones. It's my idea that too much money and time are wasted on ball players just for the sake of trying to get a good one. I have seen too many players who are paid a great deal of money and who are not worth the money."

SPORT SHARPEL

By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Usually, one hesitates to give space to an anonymous letter writer, but the temptation is too great when his criticisms are personal, and possibly well-founded.

In this case the unknown writer takes exception to one of my recent lines to the effect that the people of Ohio probably regard Brick Muller as the great football player of all time. This was not a personal opinion, but spoken rather lightly, almost facetiously, because of Brick's record forward pass against Ohio and his winning play this fall in Columbus. There was humor in the way Brick rose to great heights against and in front of the Buckeyes.

He writes: "Muller is a good player, and that is all. It is a question whether he rates all-American. He certainly didn't show the stuff against W. and J., and against U.S.C. this year, his only big game, he was completely outplayed. I shouldn't think you would take the same at Columbus as seriously. Men were playing who hadn't touched a football for almost ten years. The whole case takes its football too seriously."

Plaintiff also objects to a recent line regarding Elmer Henderson, as follows: "To the writer's way of thinking he hasn't a superior, if an equal." He continues, "Considering experience, scope of competition, everything, do you honestly think that he hasn't an equal in such men as Warner, Stag, Yost, Houghton, Fischer, Roper, Cavanaugh, Powell, Howard Jones, Tad Jones, Dr. Sharpe, O'Donnell, Daly, Dobbs, Moran, Dr. Williams, Sutherland and numerous others?"

Didn't say he was without an equal. Instead "if an equal" which leaves the matter open to argument. Yes, I am inclined to think that Henderson is equal to any of the coaches mentioned, and superior to some of them. Ask Bicknell or Terry what they think of Henderson. Good thing about Gloomy Gus; he is on the upgrade. He is far from perfect, and makes mistakes. Two years from now he will be even a better coach. I doubt very much whether any of the coaches mentioned would have accomplished more than Henderson has at U.S.C. if as much. To correctly appraise him one must be familiar with conditions at U.S.C. when he landed. There was very little football material of recognized ability enrolled. The varsity eleven had experienced difficulty in defeating high-school eleven. Henderson took this raw material in 1919, his first year, and fashioned an eleven which lost to California, 14 to 13. Smith, an eastern coach, had been coaching his eleven for two or three years. In the four years Henderson has had the Trojan he has lost only three games, all of them to California. The Bears had corralled most of the good material, and in one of these years had a truly remarkable team, as demonstrated against Ohio.

Only recently has the southern school been able to attract a share of the really top-notch prep players. Most of these years Henderson has been forced to work largely with what was left after California got through combing the State. Was greater progress made at Stanford last season under an eastern coach than Henderson made at U.S.C. his first year, and with material very inferior to what Stanford had in the season just closed?

Henderson labored under the handicap of being without a reputation when he assumed charge at U.S.C. He had coached only prep football, I believe. This fact enhanced his achievement. He was forced to deliver solely on his merits. He had some things to learn, and he learned them. Gus has grown along with the team. A prep coach, he met college football one day and conquered it. Also, he developed ideas of his own. Happily, Henderson was perfectly qualified by temperament to cope with certain football conditions prevailing at U.S.C. More experienced coaches, lacking this temperament, would have failed. Also, his men play absolutely clean football, which must be figured in a coach's rating, particularly when they win by those means.

Where a man has played football, the extent of his fame, of the prominence of the university where he mentors, are minor factors in a coach. There are certain fundamental requirements, and they may be found in unexpected places. Incidentally, a man whom I believe would have proved to be one of the best coaches in the country is out of football and living in Pale Alto. He found small-college coaching unprofitable, but was unable to get a chance higher up. He was a coach, he met college football one day and conquered it. Also, he developed ideas of his own. Happily, Henderson was perfectly qualified by temperament to cope with certain football conditions prevailing at U.S.C. More experienced coaches, lacking this temperament, would have failed. Also, his men play absolutely clean football, which must be figured in a coach's rating, particularly when they win by those means.

Getting back to Brick Muller, it may be remarked that the East-hamping critic twice picked him for All-American honors, and Walter Camp, not yours truly, must be blamed for that.

INDORSE BOXING BUREAU

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Tentative endorsement of a national boxing registration bureau, refusal to intervene in selection of championship contenders or arbitrary award of ring titles, and recommendation that the minimum age limit for boxing participants be fixed at 18, with no maximum age barrier, were outstanding developments today at the closing sessions of the two-day convention of the National Boxing Association.

The question of intervening to prevent the proposed return heavyweight championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard came up on the floor of the convention. The association decided the matter was outside the jurisdiction and that any judgment of the merits of the contest rested with individual state boxing authorities.

The fate of the proposed national boxing registration bureau, designed to clear up confusion for all pugilistic information, rests with a committee appointed to examine the plan and take a vote among boxing commissions in the 18 states which are affiliated with the N. B. A. Its operations will be aided upon the co-operation of boxing commissions in New York and Massachusetts, neither of which is a member of the N. B. A.

Richard T. Burke, of New Orleans, was elected president of the association.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Speculation for the (20)th, taking advantage of the more threatening complications in the German reparations situation and the liquidation of the other of frightened investors forced another material recession in prices in today's stock market. The declines ran from small fractions to 3 and 3 1/2 points in standard shares, but the strength of the resistance at the lower levels indicated substantial support by insiders.

While the reaction spread over most of the list and was particularly effective in the motor, equipment, oil and a few of the rails, there was a number of stocks that managed to move against the prevailing current. These included California Petroleum, which closed 3 points above Monday's final figure; Beechnut packing up 3 3/8; Kresge up 1/4; and Montana Power, up 1/2.

Low money rates and constructive domestic developments such as the announcement of more price advances in the Mid-West and Pennsylvania oil fields, helped to keep up the decline within reasonable bounds.

German marks fell to 80-100ths of a cent a hundred, or 16,666 to the American dollar as against yesterday's closing price of 12-100ths of a cent. Other rates opened firm, eased off and then rallied again. Demand sterling got as low as $4.84, or more than 3 points below last week's high, but advanced to 4.86 1/4 in the late afternoon. French francs closed at 4.84 or 4 points above Monday's close.

Polish marks dropped to 80 1/4 cents, a new low record, while the Calcutta rate continued at its high mark, 21.60 cents.

Baldwin again fluctuated within a range of 4 points, closing at 130 7/8 for a net loss of 2 3/8. Studabaker moved within more narrow limits, ending the day at 113 1/8, or 3/4 below last night's final quotation. Bethlehem B. jumped as low as 60 1/4 and rallied to 61 1/8, or 1/4. Other active shares yielded to selling pressure.

American Can, Allied Chemical, Coca Cola, Houston Oil, Coaden, Mack Truck, Republic Steel, Postum Cereal and Stromberg Carborator, all off 1/4 to 3/4 points. U. S. Steel touched 104 3/4 but ended at 104 1/4 for a net loss of only 1/4 of a point.

Anacosta and Chile copper, details for the merger of which were announced last night, each sold below Monday's closing levels, the former dropping 3/4 and the latter 1/2. Sales of Anacosta totaled approximately 14,000 shares and of Chile slightly less than 37,000 shares.

Rail shares held firm for a time but a number of active issues gave ground during the afternoon reaction, which was accelerated by the circulation of wild rumors of war between France and Germany. Canadian Pacific dropped 3 1/4 points and losses of a point or more took place in Chesapeake and Ohio, Lackawanna, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico and St. Louis Southwestern.

Cash money opened at 4 per cent and then eased to 3 1/2, despite government withdrawal of $47,000,000 from local depository banks. Time money market was inactive with a few thirty-day loans being made at 4 1/4 per cent and brokers bidding 4 1/4 for the longer maturities. Bankers, however, continued to demand 4 3/4 per cent. Commercial paper business was light with prime names commanding 4 1/4 per cent.

Day's total sales 1,500,000 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 94.94. Net loss 1.03. High 1923, 103.48. Low 98.89.

Twenty railroads averaged 14.60; net loss .75. High 1923, 15.99; low 13.45.

The Power Corporation of New York

Preferred Stock, 7% Cumulative

Dividends payable quarterly, February 1, May 1, August 1, November 1. Preferred as to dividends and to the extent of $100 per share involuntary liquidation or to $115 per share voluntary liquidation. Redeemable as a whole or in part on any dividend date at 115 and accrued dividends. Par value $100.

The Equitable Trust Company of New York, Transfer Agent; Bank of America, Registrar.

The Power Corporation of New York, incorporated 1922 under the business corporations law of New York to own, operate and develop water powers, is to acquire the developed and undeveloped water powers formerly owned by the St. Regis Paper Company, Hanna Paper Corporation and others.

Of the estimated 100,000 horsepower upon completion of proposed storage, 37,500 horsepower on the Black River and Raquette River are at present developed and income producing.

The undeveloped powers on the Raquette River, estimated at over 62,500 horsepower, represent great potential earning power, constituting one of the most important prospective high head power developments in New York State. The Company has granted a first call on the output of these powers when developed to the Northern New York Utilities, Inc.

Price 98 and Accrued Dividend Yielding 7.15%

EARNINGS—The Company has sold the entire output of its developed water powers to the St. Regis Paper Company and the Hanna Paper Corporation. These companies contract to pay the Power Corporation of New York such sums annually as may be necessary to pay all operating expenses, assessments, taxes, maintenance, depreciation and interest charges, and to leave not less than $270,000 available for sinking fund and for dividends. This amount is over three times preferred dividend requirements without regard to future earnings from undeveloped powers.

The St. Regis Paper Company, which will be the third largest manufacturer of newsprint in the United States, is an old established enterprise with a long record of successful operation. For the 5-4 years ended September 30, 1922, combined net sales have averaged $9,587,860 annually, and combined net profits before deducting depreciation and Federal taxes, or the obligation of this power contract, $1,809,552. In no year of this period have such profits failed to exceed $1,000,000.

The obligation of this power contract is a primary and essential element in the operating expenses of the paper companies, without the satisfaction of which the conduct of their business would cease.

MANAGEMENT—The ownership of The Power Corporation of New York will be vested in those same interests who have been signally successful in the management of the Northern New York Utilities, Inc., and the St. Regis Paper Company. The Power Corporation of New York was organized in order more effectively to co-ordinate the development of these enterprises and further assure an adequate supply of power to them and to the important territory which they occupy.

It is better to be sure than sorry. Our 7% preferred stock is a sure thing, but every preferred share has the support of a common share in this company.

A few of the reasons why the investor should overlook this great opportunity offered to him:

- This company has no watered stock, no promoters' profits and no ground floor.
- This company does not speculate or invest in any securities that may be subject to a speculative market.
- This company deals only in mortgages and trust deeds that are secured by real property and most in all cases have at least a margin of 50 per cent.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Reactionary Trend
(By A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Heavy calling of foreign bonds, most of which declined a point or more, combined with another flood of new offerings, including the $200,000,000 Anaconda issue to be put out tomorrow, imparted a decidedly reactionary trend to prices in today's bond market.

Fear of further trouble in Germany led to a rather extensive liquidation of French bonds, Marcellin 6s breaking 3 1/2 points; Bordeaux 4s and Lyons 4s 1/2 each, and French 7 1/2s and 8s, Belgian 7 1/2s and 8s, and other French municipals 1 to 1 1/2 points, together with Italian, Queensland, Mexican and South American issues. Several of the French issues approached within small fractions of their lowest quotations for some time.

United States government securities held firm in the early dealings but reacted toward the close, the issues ranging from 2 to 10 cents on $100 except in the case of the Victory 4 1/2s, which advanced 2 cents, and the second 4s, which dropped 1 1/2.

Speculative railroad mortgages all yielded to selling pressure. Erie convertible 4s, series A, breaking 3 1/2 points, and Erie 4s, adjusted 4s and income 4s, Southern Railway 4s and 5s, Rock Island refunding 4 1/2s, New Haven 7s and St. Paul 4s of 1922 and refunding 4s dropping a point or more.

In the industrial division, International Cement 3s receded 3 1/2, and Corro de Pisco 3 1/2; Brooklyn Rapid Transit 4s dropped 3 points on unconfirmed reports that they would not fare as well as the other issues in the reorganization. Total sales (par value) were $12,175,000.

The Northern Pacific Railroad is reported to be planning on a $10,000,000 issue of refunding and improvement 5 per cent mortgage bonds.

The Wisdom of Age with the Vigor of Youth

A NOTED American financier was asked, when selecting a new board of directors for one of his large companies, what type of men he intended choosing for the coveted places. His reply was:

"Give me men with the Wisdom of age and the Vigor of youth."

This is indeed a qualification hard to find, but in the personnel of the Federal Discount Corporation this expression so truly carried the ideals of the organizers that they have endeavored in every way to fulfill it.

The Federal Discount Corporation discounts first class commercial furniture paper. Therefore it needed experienced and progressive furniture men. It is a finance company—therefore it needed bankers of ability and probity. Its legal phases needed calibre of men like the banker and furniture man. Therefore, successful lawyers were selected. Today the board of directors and the advisory board constitute the three elements necessary for success—furniture, banking and legal.

The Federal Discount Corporation offers units of one share preferred—one share of common at $12.50.
(The preferred is 8% cumulative.)

WINERY OWNER IS NOT GUILTY

First Wright Act Trial in County Failure

Jury Returns Verdict After Three Minutes

"Frame-up" Plea of Defense Wins Case

In the first jury trial in this county for alleged violation of the Wright Act, John D. Bortolo, owner of a winery on Washington Boulevard near Culver City, yesterday was acquitted in Justice Scott's court. Bortolo, who has been taken from him and the government could have confiscated 10,000 gallons of wine.

Considerable interest was attached to the trial. Leo Youngworth, defense attorney, charged that the arrest was in the nature of a "frame-up," and that there was no evidence that Bortolo sold the wine except by two investigators of the District Attorney's office.

Bortolo and his wife testified that the purchased wine did not come from his winery, and that the two investigators had not been there.

John Carney and William Tinsley, the investigators, testified that they bought two gallons of wine from Bortolo. The wine was placed in evidence and stood in a conspicuous place on counsel's table.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Burke, under whose direction the raid on Bortolo's winery was conducted, made a strong plea to the jury, denying a "frame-up," and urging a verdict of guilty in support of the Wright Act, which he said, otherwise would be brought into disrepute.

When the jury, which deliberated but three minutes, returned a verdict of not guilty, there was a silence for a moment. Then the clerk in a loud voice and hit the gavel.

MURDER AUTO OWNER SOUGHT

on the opposite side of the street from Fisher.

The car was pointed west. One man was at the wheel, the other two were sitting in the rear.

"Come over here. We want to see something," one of the men shouted to Fisher, who continued walking.

"Nothing doing," and Fisher kept walking.

Two shots from a rifle which struck Fisher in the head, was the answer from the man in the car. Mrs. C. F. Ahrens of 119 West Fifty-fourth street, who is thought by police to be the only eye-witness to the killing, saw the man sitting in the rear seat raise the rifle and fire.

Witness Helpless
"I knew there was nothing I could do," Mrs. Ahrens stated. "I was helpless. It seems to me I got the number of the car and saw them speed away."

Fisher staggered when the shots struck his head but did not fall. He ran to the door of 119 West Fifty-fourth street and tried to tear the screen off. Falling to do this he ran about 100 yards, falling on his face about 100 yards south of Fifty-fourth street directly west of Main street. He was dead before anyone arrived.

Fisher's body was taken to the undertaking parlors of E. C. Coop at 1814 West Washington street. According to Fisher's Italian wife, Teresa, they were married ten months ago. He was born in South America, had traveled extensively, and could speak ten languages fluently.

CUSTOMERS AFRAID
Police working on the case believe Fisher was employed a few months ago to make whiskey for a list of regular customers. Many of these, they say, are in the motion-picture business. Many of the regular customers ran into debt with their bootlegging bills. It is known by those investigating the case that several hundred dollars was due Fisher for bootlegging whiskey.

Fisher went to these persons who owed him money and told them if they didn't settle their bills he would kill all of them. Detective Chapman stated yesterday: "He was careless and as brave as they ever get."

Those who were in debt to Fisher brought about his arrest. Detectives say, Fisher had often told his former friends that he was a secret-service man, according to them, and that he would eventually turn them in might have led to the killing.

Fisher's relatives rushed to Santa Anita and yesterday believed they would be able to find the stills formerly used by Fisher.

JAIL MATRON TO BE OUSTED

Results of Escape of Clara Phillips, Murderess

Another to be Reprimanded by Sheriff Traeger

Carelessness of Women is Explained by Official

As a result of the escape of Clara Phillips from the County Jail, and the subsequent investigation of jail conditions, one matron will be dismissed and a second reprimanded, according to a statement issued by Sheriff Traeger last night.

Mrs. L. D. Fisher, matron on duty at the time the hammer slayer made her escape, will be discharged for negligence. Mrs. Pan-ny Lowe, also a matron, will be reprimanded by Sheriff Traeger because of alleged intimacy with certain women prisoners and infractions of rules.

The action announced came after an exhaustive investigation of conditions in the women's quarters of the jail made by Under-Sheriff Biscailus and Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark.

DISMISSAL ADVISED
The investigation was conducted following the escape of Mrs. Phillips. In a report to Sheriff Traeger the two officials made many recommendations among them the dismissal of Mrs. Fisher.

Sheriff Traeger stated he had decided on his course of action only after mature deliberation and a personal investigation into many phases of the situation.

"From her own statements made to Under-Sheriff Biscailus and Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark, Mrs. Fisher demonstrated she had not exercised due care and was negligent in the management of the women's quarters. Because it has been proven to me she was careless I have decided to dismiss her," Sheriff Traeger stated.

Mrs. Lowe will be reprimanded because of her alleged intimacy with Madeline Obenchain.

PREVIOUS COMPLAINT
Sheriff Traeger stated that the District Attorney's office had complained before the escape of Mrs. Phillips, that matrons had been showing leniency toward certain women prisoners, and that Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. Fisher also were not co-operating with that office in the prosecution of women prisoners.

Mrs. Lowe is said to have allowed Mrs. Obenchain to kiss her while in the courtroom. This, according to the report, was a violation of jail rules.

Fourteen recommendations were made in the report submitted by Under-Sheriff Biscailus and Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark. Most of them already have been carried into effect. All dealt with defects in the present system of government and according to Sheriff Traeger, in the future greater care will be shown by all officials or immediate dismissal will result.

Failure to co-operate with the District Attorney's office will be met with instant discharge, as recommended in the report, and matrons will be required to be on duty more than eight consecutive hours.

Although the report states that from evidence gathered in effect appear probable the bars on Mrs. Phillips's cell were sawed from the outside, Sheriff Traeger declared he was convinced that Mrs. Phillips herself sawed the bars, and that they were cut several days before she made her escape.

RECOMMENDS SHERIFF
The report highly commends Sheriff Traeger in his attempt to bring about efficiency in the County Jail and closes with the following paragraph:

"Already many of the recommendations herein set forth, having been orally communicated to you, have been carried into effect. The salary changes made by you in the conduct of the jail have tended to the good of the institution. Indeed, the general public has no idea how much has already been accomplished by way of improvement in the administration of the jail; or how much has been planned to take effect in the near future; nor to what extent you have had the helpful co-operation of the Board of Supervisors."

"These matters, however, lie outside the scope of this report," the report states. "We can no more than thank you for the progress you have made. Escapes have arisen in the past, but under your administration, for years. They are not to be remedied in a day."

property subject to a trust deed containing release clauses, providing for release of portion of the property free and clear, and then to pay the balance of the purchase price at the rate of $1,000,000 per annum.

The engineers' plans provide for general improvements such as roads, sewers and water systems, and light power, etc. for an ultimate population of 100,000, but the general manager stresses the point that the development will only be in proportion to market requirements and available cash resources.

HUGE SUM PLEDGED
To give some idea of the magnitude of the project, the trustee's statement as of January 8 shows installment subscriptions of $9,096,250 upon which 10 per cent or more has been paid and $10,245,400 upon which the trustee can call for 5 per cent on Jan. 1, 1935, and 5 per cent at the end of the sixty-day period thereafter; a total subscription to January 8 of $19,341,750. There is, in addition, $2,500,000 in subscriptions sent their children to the rate of from 15 per cent to 20 per cent of contract work performed or materials furnished. Since January 8, and to a closing hour of business yesterday $5,113,400 had been received in subscriptions to the project.

IN GOOD SHAPE
Indicating the excellent present financial condition of the trust the trustee makes the following statement:

"Cash on hand, being the total amount thus far paid in on subscriptions to Jan. 8, 1935, held in trust, $19,341,750. Amount of first payment which will be required upon the land, $1,500,000."

Balance on hand after making first payment, not including additional collections to date, $18,841,750. The making said payment, $415,244.21.

wound on the girl's head. It indicated she had been struck a severe blow over the head with a blunt instrument before her unclothed body had been cast into the water.

The body was identified by William Mann, the brother. As he gazed upon his dead sister he swore vengeance upon the man responsible for her death, if it proved she was murdered and if the identity of the supposed slayer is established.

Two of the young men whose names were found in the vanity case provided complete alibis this afternoon. Other boys are being investigated, including two young men to whom two unmailed letters had been addressed. The names of the youths are being withheld, but it was learned that one of them resides in Long Beach.

Fritzi Mann was 17 years of age and a talented classic dancer. She was born in Turkey and accompanied her parents to this country about two years ago. Her mother and her brother she has been prominent in the younger social set.

No motive for slaying her has yet been uncovered. Due to her prominence and the interest which has been aroused since the finding of her unclothed body, a conference between the coroner and the police to launch an exhaustive investigation of the tragedy was in progress at a late hour.

"DOCTORS" GO BEFORE GRAND JURY
Bay City Federal Body is Hearing Evidence on Dope Selling Suspects

"Dr." Charles B. Blessing, proprietor of the "Barker" Sanatorium here, had arranged to sell to a Federal narcotic inspector, posing as a buyer, a quantity of narcotics, according to evidence made public yesterday in San Francisco by H. E. Meader, director of the State Board of Pharmacy, simultaneously with the hearing of the cases of Blessing and "Dr." John Scott Barker before the Federal grand jury.

It is on this asserted agreement that the indictment against Blessing will be sought on the charge of conspiracy to violate the Harrison Drug Act, which forbids the sale of narcotics. Records seized at the Barker Sanatorium here contained the names of Wallace Reid and Juanita Hansen, film stars, and other well known persons.

Meader also indicated that secret testimony to be given the grand jury will be held for the trial of Barker and Blessing, who he feels certain will be indicted by the jury.

This evidence will be introduced as "surprise testimony." If the pair are held for trial, and the authorities say it will connect Barker and Blessing with a State-wide drug ring.

While Blessing faces a conspiracy charge, Barker, who headed the Barker Sanatorium in Oakland, faces a charge of selling narcotics, a felony charge.

SCHOOLS CLASH WITH HUSBANDS

married or not, if they fall within the age limit. A woman with a child, of course, is exempted. One about to become a mother also is exempt, provided she furnishes us with a doctor's certificate to that effect. When the wife positively is needed all the time for the care of an invalid and a doctor will give a certificate to that effect she will have to attend school.

NO MORE HOOKEY
Mr. Cooney concludes with this postscript:

"Rosita Melendez, though he was not arrested upon that charge last night, has been missing night school but has agreed to attend regularly in the future."

Senior Garza Leal, who had swept a stack of customs invoices aside to consider the cry for help from the young Mexican married men of El Monte, had this comment to make:

"Of course we have no desire to test any law of this country and our citizens should abide by it. We always advise Mexican parents to send their children to the public schools. But, still, my heart cannot help but sympathize with the married men of El Monte. It is but human, aside from any official duty of mine."

"You see these young men are rather old-fashioned and of the Latin race. Their views on domestic life are different from the Anglo-Saxon. And since they are newly married many of them, I have no doubt, are still in love with their wives."

THEY'RE JEALOUS
"The cold fact is, these husbands are jealous. One of them is a letter to me confessed as much. I shall guard his words and his identity with my life. But what really is more natural, when one is asked to send a young, pretty, new-taken wife to attend school with young men of her age? And since this law is intended to make for the Americanization of alien immigrants, it cannot make much sense."

Senior Garza Leal expects to take up the matter today with County Superintendent Keppel, not to protest the law, but to see whether its enforcement cannot be tempered so as to abate the agony of the young married men of El Monte.

"It seems to me," said the Consul, "that if a woman is permitted to devote all her time to a wife's duties. These poor, love-lorn husbands, I leave the law to a large Mexican colony at El Monte. Most of the men are employed in the walnut and orange orchards."

frontage for permanent base structures.

QUICK EFFORTS BLOCKED
Efforts yesterday by Edgar McKee, chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, to obtain the adoption of a resolution protesting against the proposed transfer of the submarine base were blocked yesterday by two other members of the board on the ground that "there is no hurry about the thing."

In introducing the resolution, Mr. McKee urged immediate action to counteract the move for the transfer of the base. He pointed to the fact that the city of Los Angeles has contributed 146 acres to the Navy Department for the construction of a 10,000,000 submarine base in the outer harbor, and that the city has contributed $600,000 to the Navy Department in free rentals for use of the present underwater craft base at the harbor. The resolution set forth that the Navy Department has no real reason for transferring the base and included a strong plea for the retention of the base here.

Upon his introduction Commissioner McKee declared that it was premature. They opposed its adoption, declaring that "there is no hurry," and the resolution was tabled.

CONTRACTS ARE LET
Contracts for the insurance of the harbor department's floating equipment, valued at $193,200, were let to the Cogswell-Clearmont Company on its bid of $1779.

Thirty acres on Smith's Island were leased by the board to the Standard Oil Company, adjoining its present plant. It is the intention of the Standard Oil Company to construct four huge oil storage tanks on the site. These tanks will have a total capacity of 150,000 barrels.

J. C. MacQuiddy, marine superintendent of the Standard Oil Company, pointed out that at present the concern's tankers are forced to load in open sea at El Segundo. This will be eliminated with the construction of the new storage tanks, he stated.

The board also received a petition from the American Sugar Company for a site at the harbor, where it intends to construct a new plant. Its plant is now situated at Glendale, but has been outgrown, it was stated. The company produces a vegetable gelling made from sea weed, which is used in the manufacture of films, silks, candy and ice cream.

Why, by Phyllis Fergus—to the piano accompaniment of Agnes Gibson, following which the latter showed exceptional interpretative skill in her rendition of MacDowell's "Witch's Dance." The afternoon concert yesterday continued well beyond its usual limit, and was entertaining and educational. Elizabeth Pike interpreted four solos to the accompaniment of Claire Forbes Crane. The songs were new to listeners. In note of them having been given from KHJ since its opening as a Class B station. Possessed of a soprano voice of rich quality and high range, Miss Pike clothes her vocal portraits in attractive raiment.

Mrs. Crane, although not scheduled to present piano solos, favored with two. She is an artist of exceptional ability. Her rendition of Liszt's "Love Dream" had all the soothing effects of oriental incense and her excerpt from Tchaikowsky's "Concerto" was remotely removed in theme from the first selection. Tchaikowsky's "Concerto" is seldom played by a woman, but Mrs. Crane has played it with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and with the Los Angeles Philharmonic. It is the longest concerto ever written, requiring a full forty-five minutes for complete orchestral expression. Mrs. Crane's excerpt was the march theme from the first movement.

Beginning at the time when KHJ's afternoon program usually concludes, Mrs. A. S. McCollister, prominently known as a lecturer, took radioland on a journey through scenic America. Beginning at the seat of the nation's government—Washington, Mrs. McCollister painted a highly interesting verbal picture of the scenic wonders for which America is famous.

Her little sightseeing journey, condensed into forty-five minutes, carried the listener down to the floor of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, feasted their minds on the wonders of the great spectacle, its colorings that defy all out the master artist, then into Yosemite with its waterfalls, canyons and mountain grandeur; on to Mt. Rainier National Park with its eternally snowcapped peaks and mountain fastnesses; over to Glacier National Park with its multitude of glacial lakes, chateaus, timber, game and natural beauty, and finally to Yellowstone.

Mrs. McCollister held the interest of her invisible audience, bringing to them interesting pictures recorded by observing eyes and flashed on the screen of the listeners' minds by the most potent of forces—the wizardry of the spoken word.

She Had Dandruff - - -

And simply couldn't dress her hair to "make it look like anything". Finally in despair, she asked her physician what to use. Unhesitatingly, he recommended Newbro's Herpicide, knowing by long experience that Herpicide would eradicate her dandruff, stop her falling hair, and tone up the scalp and make it healthy.

After a few days her friends noticed the change in her appearance—the dull, faded-out looking hair had been transformed—the high lights which had long been hidden fairly gleamed with life and beauty.

Do not neglect your hair and scalp any longer. Get a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide today. It is positively guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it, or your druggist is authorized to refund purchase price.

"TIMES" RECIPE CONTEST

Readers of The Times are invited to participate in a series of culinary contests in which this journal will pay cash prizes for the best recipes submitted. There will be six contests, each lasting two weeks. In each contest the best recipe submitted will win a first prize of $10, the next best $7.50 and the third best $5. In addition to these there will be two special prizes of $10 and $5 for the two best recipes for Spanish dishes. These Spanish-dish recipes may be submitted at any time during the twelve weeks, or until April 7. All other recipes must be submitted before the end of the two weeks allotted to the contest in which each is intended as an entry.

The first contest began January 15, and closes Saturday, January 27. It is a contest for the best recipe for a soup or an appetizer. The winners will be announced in The Times on Saturday, February 3.

The second contest, which will be for the best recipe for preparing fish or a fish sauce, will begin January 27 and close February 19. Winners will be announced February 17.

The third contest will be for the best recipe for preparing meat or a meat sauce. It will run from February 19 to February 24. Winners will be announced March 3.

The fourth contest, to run from February 24 to March 16, will be for the best recipe for the preparation of vegetables. Winners announced March 17.

The fifth contest, March 16 to March 24, will be for the best salad or salad dressing. Winners announced March 31.

The sixth contest will run from March 24 to April 7. It will be for the best recipe for a dessert. This may be cake, pastry or frozen or moulded desserts. Winners in this and in the special Spanish-dish contest will be announced April 14.

Honorable mention will be given worthy recipes which do not win prizes.

The Times reserves the right to print any recipe submitted in its columns or in book form. In such case the name of the author will also appear.

Recipes should be written on one side of the paper only, must be legible and plainly marked with the name and address of the author.

No manuscripts will be returned.

It is not necessary to be a subscriber to The Times to compete. Anyone may enter any or all of the contests, submitting as many recipes as desired.

Originality, economy and adaptability to Southern California conditions will be considered in judging the recipes. Contestants should submit only recipes that have been thoroughly tested out in their own kitchens.

Specify exact amounts of ingredients, using level measurements. Do not use trade-marked names of ingredients.

Recipes should be sent in as early as possible. A recipe may be sent in before the actual start of the contest in which it is entered but in this case the fact must be noted at the top. Address all recipes to The Times Recipe Editor, Times Building, Los Angeles.

Street Railway Adds Ten Cars to City Service

Improved service on line "R," Stephenson avenue, of the Los Angeles Railway will be put into effect this morning by establishment of a downtown turnback point at Eighth street and Grand avenue for cars coming into the downtown district from the east end of Whittier boulevard.

The west terminal of line "R" is Sixth street and Rampart boulevard, but the establishment of a downtown terminal will enable the company to give seven more trips for the benefit of inbound passengers between 6 a.m. and 8:45 a.m. Service from Sixth street and Rampart boulevard to the downtown district will continue the same as before. The downtown turnback will be used in the morning rush period only.

Between 8:30 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. two-and-one-half-minute service will be given on line "R" from East Whittier boulevard to the downtown district.

Ten cars were added to various

Supervisors Create Post of Storekeeper

The Board of Supervisors yesterday created the post of county storekeeper, in the interest, they said, of efficiency and economy. The post will carry $250 monthly salary and will be filled through the classified civil service.

The storekeeper will have his headquarters in New High street, and from this central point will be distributed all supplies for county institutions, such as the County Hospital, outdoor relief and the like. The storekeeper will work in conjunction with the county purchasing agent.

He will be able, the supervisors believe, to aid in systematizing county purchasing, eliminate duplication and cut the time of institutions in getting needed supplies.

A Rich Reward

To those who beautify their teeth

You would not for one day leave your teeth as they are if you knew what others know.

Prettier teeth bring rich rewards, both to men and women. There are few things more attractive. Then that feeling of cleanliness, that increased sense of safety.

Millions are gaining these results by a new way of teeth cleaning. Make this free test and see how much it means to you and yours.

It removes the film

That viscous film you feel on teeth is their chief enemy. Millions of teeth are dimmed and ruined by it.

It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste can effectively combat it. So much of it is left intact.

That film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Film forms a breeding place for germs. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Very few people, under old methods, escaped these film-caused troubles. Glistening teeth were seen less often than now.

A change has come

Dental science, after long research, has found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to daily remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Many careful tests by able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. And these two great film combatants were embodied in it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. It is now advised by dentists the world over. To the careful people of some 50 nations it is bringing a new dental era.

Other discoveries

Modern research proved other things essential. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest

Thus every one gives credit to these great dental agents, night and day.

CHUMMY CHATS
WITH NOTABLESScotch Woman Addresses the
Friday Morning ClubLiterary Lights of London Are DiscussedHearers Given Peek Into Celebrities' Homes

BY MYRA NYE

An hour's intimate chat with English celebrities! A little fun, a touch of whimsy, a bit of real solid information, and altogether the joy of a glimpse of the human nature at its cleverest, at its most human form and at its best! This was the Literature Luncheon of the Friday Morning Club yesterday.

While things are of great value and great moment, it is people that really count. This fact was amply proven when Mrs. Annie A. Adams, a Scotchwoman from London, gave her talk on "Literary Lights of London". These present were given a breezy peek into the homes and lives of those whom we have revered from afar. It was a human glimpse which let us in on little peculiarities as well as virtues. The awe and reverence those present was changed to genuine liking right there on the spot.

Scores By Ignoring

There was a touch of Rebecca West through whose column in the New Republic has crept the stinging cleverness which is peculiar to her. There was a little carry over of how the literature of a dinner to a delightful speech on women writers while her friends held their breath waiting for her reply. But when she spoke she told of a trip to Italy, of books, of travel and anything but that she, thereby humbling the previous speaker greatly. Doesn't that make you know and enjoy Rebecca West?

Bernard Shaw was described as a highlight of the Author's Club where all his froth completely disappeared last night when Mrs. Adams told of the methodical office hours kept by English writers. There is no night writing, as it is done on a set schedule.

And Kipling! The Literature Section was afforded a glimpse of the real Kipling seldom seen. During the war when he was in an agony of uncertainty because of his son, he and his wife, "himself and Jane," read the complete works of Scott and Jane Austin to relieve their minds. The reading of Scott seems to be an institution with Kipling, according to Mrs. Adams, for he reads through all his books once a year.

"AUTHORS JEALOUS"

The gifted brothers, Arnold and Clifford, were sketched. Arnold the composer and Clifford the playwright—the verse-writer and writer of satire. According to the latter, "authors are jealous, not of each other but for each other." They can be taken, indifferent and blasé to criticism of themselves but are incensed when that criticism is directed on their fellow-writers. To him the good feeling between writers and between musicians is marvelous.

Everyone had a chance to walk right into the home of May Sinclair and look around. "It is done in soft gray, mauve, purple and violet," says Mrs. Adams. The house is just as unusual and thought-compelling as she is herself. May Sinclair is small and dark and silent and wears exquisite clothes and hats. She it was whom Mark Twain rebuked while she sat beside him at a dinner, tongue-tied, by saying, "Child, do not be so uproarious."

BET ABOUT "PUNCH"

Mrs. Adams' chat closed with a bit about "Punch," which to the Englishman "ranks just after the King and Westminster Abbey." "During the war," said Mrs. Adams, "though like the Scotchman, Punch joked with difficulty, still it joked." At that time it was almost the whole of life to the English boys in the trenches and to the families at home.

The bringing of the personality of Edward Simmonds into the luncheon room of the Friday Morning Club was done cleverly by Mrs. Caroline W. McQuinn, a member of the Southern California Women's Press Club and a writer of humorous verse and features, has been named as the managing editor.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

Last week I described to you the first great storm on my sea of life. And I hope you will have more sympathy from now with us when we suffer from this terrible affliction, colic. Colic has probably caused more sleepless nights and more suffering both to us and to our parents than any other storm of babyhood. I thank my lucky stars I haven't had many attacks. But one sufficient for me to know that I want to do all I can to alleviate the sufferings of my fellow-babies from the same cause.

Doctor says that babies who suffer with colic usually suffer from constipation. And nursing babies may suffer from the constipation of their mothers, or they may have colic from anything that distresses the mama because her milk is influenced by her own impressions and may be changed thereby.

Babies who are having their mother's milk are more apt to suffer with colic the first three months. Babies who haven't the advantage of their mother's milk are apt to suffer longer from occasional attacks of colic.

Colic may be caused by too much food, or by irregular feeding or too frequent feedings. Also if the baby is underfed, it has not been enough in its bowels to stimulate the normal action of the bowels and the baby becomes constipated, and this produces colic.

This is what happens in our little bowels when we have colic. There is an irritation of the mucous membrane from some cause. Gas is produced by this irritation and the irritation and gas cause a spasm probably due to the gas and it is the stretching of the bowels that causes our terrible pain. While it is terrible, it isn't dangerous, so don't worry for fear we will burst mamas.

Gas can form from fermentation or putrefaction in the bowels. In bottle fed babies who suffer from colic, it is not due to irregular or too frequent feedings. It may be due to too much sugar in the formula. And the sugar has to be lessened or perhaps cut out for a little while.

Besides the sugar in the formula, the fat (cream) or the protein (curds) may cause colic. Doctor says that if your babies suffer with colic you had better see your doctor and have him find out the cause.

I shall tell you how we cry when we have colic. Our cries are violent and come in waves when the paroxysms of pain come on. It is not continuous like the cry of real hunger. We give symptoms of abdominal pain. We draw our little legs up and our abdomens are usually hard and distended.

But mamas must be careful not to attribute everything to colic! Sometimes we are naughty and we draw our legs up and kick in fury, but when we get picked up or given what we want we stop. That's the way you can tell when we are doing that naughty thing. Don't forget though, mamas, that if we are naughty it's because we have taught us that. That's the way we get what we want.

Sometimes we cry for other reasons, such as inflammation of the ears and other inflammations. But in those cases we have a fever, and in colic we do not have a fever.

Last week I told you what was done to relieve my spasm of colic. Paracetamol and soothing syrups are harmful to use, and mamas must find out what is the cause of the colic and remove it. If your baby has an abdominal binder you must be sure to loosen it for a tight abdominal binder will also cause colic. Most baby doctors now believe that the abdominal binder is not necessary after the navel is thoroughly healed.

SOCIETY

One of the most interesting weddings of the season was that which took place last evening at the Wilshire Christian Church when Miss Wilhelmina May Rector became the bride of F. W. Gollum of New York City. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. H. Fagan, the bride being given in marriage by her father, George Henry Rector.

The bride was charming in soft white satin, with a long tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her cousin, Portia Miner, as maid of honor, attired in an orchid gown, graced with a bouquet of pink roses.

George M. Wallace was best man. Many friends witnessed the ceremony, including the mother and brother of the bridegroom, Mrs. F. E. Gollum and Lionel Gollum of this city, and the bride's mother, Mrs. George H. Rector. A reception was held at the church, followed by another at the home of the bride's parents, at 480 South Manhattan Place.

The event was the culmination of a romance which began in New York, when Miss Rector attended Columbia University two years ago, although the young couple have known each other for many years. Miss Gollum was a graduate of the Los Angeles High School, and of U.S.C., where she specialized in psychology. She has been popular in musical circles here, having concertized in collaboration with Percy Grainger.

The bridegroom will be remembered in Los Angeles banking circles, where he was active prior to going overseas. He served as an officer in a machine gun company, Ninety-first Division. Upon his return he became an officer and director of the National American Bank of New York City, which position he now has.

Mr. and Mrs. Gollum left for New York last night, where they will reside in the future.

Middaugh-Coons Wedding

Another wedding of particular interest is that of dainty Miss Virginia Middaugh and John Louis Coons, which will take place at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on the 27th inst. Miss Middaugh is the youngest of the three attractive daughters of Mrs. Alice Middaugh of Hollywood, and Mr. Coons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Coons of Eighth Avenue, this city.

It will be an evening wedding, with Ray Easley officiating. Miss Marguerite Middaugh will be her sister's maid of honor, other attendants being Mrs. Eugene Pearson Ramsey, Mrs. Verne Elliott and Miss Lucille Middaugh. Elmer Berkark is the chosen groomsmen and Nat Brown, Karl Coons and Louis Wertz will perform the service of ushers. After the ceremony there will be a reception at the bride's home, 1603 Fallen Avenue, Hollywood.

Dinner Party
Mrs. Neal Tanquary of 139 South Gramercy Place will be the hostess at a large dinner party at the Vista del Arroyo, Pasadena, this evening, when her guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barry, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Sweet, Wesley Dempster of Chicago, Miss Ethel Own, C. W. Rosenthal, Mrs. E. H. Wheeler, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Barry, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Beckman and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bennett.

From Mexico
Local friends will be interested to learn that Mrs. Hilda Harker, widow of the late Ernest Harker, who was connected with Princeton University of this city for some time until a year ago, is to be married again this month in Mexico City. It will be remembered that Mr. Harker, after receiving an appointment to take charge of the Doherty interests in Tampico, died en route after leaving here.

Mrs. Harker made many friends while here, and proved most popular. She is to be married to Frederick Stevens of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who served as an officer throughout the war with a Canadian regiment. Mrs. Harker's people are English residents of Mexico City.

For Bride-Elect
Mrs. Harry G. Stephens has issued invitations for a reception to be held at the Rampart Apartments the 24th inst. in honor of her daughter-in-law-elect, Miss Mildred Nancy Cates of Monrovia, whose engagement to John Richardson Stephens was announced last Thursday. The wedding will take place on February 10.

Wedding Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. Norton French announce the marriage of their daughter Frances to Dr. George Kendall Dasey of Fort Worth, which took place at the bride's home, 149 Fraser Avenue, Santa Monica, last Saturday. Rev. Wallace N. Pierson performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Dasey was a graduate of Marlborough Girls' School, and she has a wide circle of friends both in Phoenix and Salt Lake, as well as in this city.

Dr. Dasey is a physician of the Bay City, graduate of the Washington (D. C.) University. Dr. and Mrs. Dasey will reside in the north city after their honeymoon, and will be at home to their friends on February 1.

HOPI SQUAW
REAL CHIEF
IN DIVORCES
Clara Kimball Young Has Interesting Story to Tell of Woman's Sphere

The position of the Indian never has been an enviable one, but what an easy time our Hopi Indian sisters have in the matter of divorce! In fact, according to Miss Clara Kimball Young, they really are more sovereign in their homes than we are.

She says: "The home and children belong to the mother, the latter trading her descent from her rather than from the father. When the corn is in the field, the husband is allowed to sell a few ears without asking permission of his wife, but after it is husked it belongs to his wife and the family. If he doesn't conduct himself properly the husband is likely to come home from a carouse only to find the door closed against him and his personal belongings deposited outside. In this manner he is made aware of the fact that if he is divorced, and that the door of the temple forever is buttoned against him. To argue the question would be a useless loss of dignity, for no chief or head of a tribe has a voice above that of the wife and mother in her own home."

Miss Young has a great many interesting things to tell about Indian life. Aside from her own name, she bears the title of Ya-Wa-lah-Pa-Poch, which was bestowed on her by the chief of the Saboba Indians, made famous by "Ramona." The meaning of the name is "beautiful eyes." Miss Young is proud of the name because she loves the Indians and has their cause at heart.

The Indian Welfare League, of which Miss Young is a member, is making rapid progress in the work of paving the way to get suffrage for the Indians. Its members are speaking before many of the clubs in the city.

COURT HOLDS "LITTLE MAC"

Accused "Stick-up" Man Acts as Own Attorney

Gained Liberty Before for Help Given Police

Was Beaten in Jail by His "Wobbly" Enemies

"Little Mac," christened William Linehan, swaggered with the insolence of a crook who knows his name is a byword in the underworld, whose revolver was notched, and whose jobs were rated high up in the grand larceny roster. About five feet six inches tall, little and nimble-witted he stood before Justice Baird yesterday afternoon as counsel in his own defense.

His eyes darted like lance points as he shot confusing questions at witnesses. With more than a score of hold-up charges credited to him, he was trying for a strategic footing on the legal ledge. Crude talent was evidenced as he groped with court terms, the educational residue of a position he once held in a court reporter's office in San Francisco.

Some of those in the courtroom recalled the asserted exploits of "Little Mac" as his muscled-jaws worked and he framed hoarse questions.

As the "skitful burglar" he was instrumental in the theft of $100,000 worth of furs from local shops last year. There was a little scene one afternoon in an alleyway street apartment-house, during which "Little Mac" jammed a six-shooter against the belt of a "fence," following which he returned the furs. "Little Mac" was given his liberty by the District Attorney's office and police for "kicking back the skins." He was given a chance to go straight.

He became a frequent visitor at Central Station, the pet of several detectives. He gained temporary fame by trapping "Red" Lambertson, an L.W.W., who was shot from ambush as he attempted to derail the Coastline Limited of the Southern Pacific near Glendale. "Little Mac" was offered a position as special railroad detective for his services. But the lure of his old associations was too strong.

He picked up a few new tricks hanging around the police station and the District Attorney's office. He frequented "The Nest," a bawdy suite in the heart of town, long since destroyed by police. There he drank bootleg whisky, listened to the songs of a blond, thought bitter thoughts about life and planned a new debut into crime.

His debut was extraordinary. A new and luxurious limousine was stolen. He hired a colored chauffeur and took an apartment at Venice in the heart of the city. He comforted himself on "stick-up" excursions. The limousine was something of an arsenal. Burglar tools, weapons and narcotics were his luggage.

"Little Mac" staged a private reign of terror before he was caught. Then a cell in the County Jail supplanted his beach apartment.

Yesterday, during his hearing, he protested against his treatment in the Buena Vista street bastille. It seems that he was transferred to a cell in which were a number of wobblies. They apparently knew the inside story of the dramatic death of "Red" Lambertson.

"There's a rat coming in," they said to one another when "Little Mac" was placed among them, he asserted yesterday. "We'll get him."

"They got me all right," said "Little Mac." "They wiped up the floor with me. What kind of a chance did I have?"

Among the charges of robbery against "Little Mac" were those preferred by Ray A. Gruner and Anna C. Sumpster. The former testified that his watch and $50 were stolen, the latter that she had lost $250 in cash and checks.

Despite "Little Mac's" eloquent plea in his own behalf, Justice Baird held him to answer on $5000 bail.

SAYS SON URGED TO BRUTALITY

Pomona Woman Asking for Divorce Makes Charges That Are Unusual

The asserted brutality of her son John, 15 years of age, said to have been urged by his father, caused Mrs. Nettie I. Stoner of Pomona to file suit for divorce yesterday against Clyde M. Stoner. In her complaint, Mrs. Stoner declared that her son, with his father's consent, remained away from school, chewed and smoked. She declared she remonstrated with him several times, but he disregarded her.

Her husband, Mrs. Stoner asserts, told the boy he could do as he wished, and to pay no attention to his mother.

The climax came, according to Mrs. Stoner, when her son turned on her, knocked her down and beat her brutally after she again asked him to stop smoking and return to school. Her husband stood by without offering to come to her assistance, she declares.

On another occasion, Mrs. Stoner charges, her husband choked and beat her, threatening to kill her unless she left the house. They were married in 1919 and separated last month. Mrs. Stoner is represented by Attorney Frank W. Forester of Pomona.

POLICE CLERK IS RETURNED TO DUTY

William Matuskiewicz, who was removed by Chief of Police Oaks as property clerk at Police headquarters was yesterday ordered restored to duty by Police Commissioners De la Monte and De Coe, as majority members of the Board of Police Commissioners. Mayor Cryer, chairman ex-officio of the commission, did not sign the report.

The property clerk will lose his pay from the time he was removed until January 15 under the ruling of the board. The commissioners stated that the order restoring the officer to duty was the result of an investigation by them into his case.

Speaker Would Have Newport Harbor Improved

Declares It Natural Outlet
for Orange Empire

Ontario Chamber Addressed
by Angeleno

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

ONTARIO, Jan. 16.—Development of Newport Harbor as the natural trade outlet of the orange empire, of which Ontario is the center, was urged today by Julius Schneider, former industrial editor of the Los Angeles Times and at present engaged in making an industrial survey of Southern California for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. In an address before members of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Ontario last night, he declared that the harbor was a natural outlet for the orange empire and that the development of the harbor was a natural outlet for the orange empire.

The speaker pointed out that conditions at the Los Angeles Harbor already were congested, that an auxiliary harbor was becoming a necessity and that the importance of Newport Harbor to the citrus belt could not be overestimated. He expressed the belief that this section shortly would be called upon to aid in the development of the Orange county project, declaring that the development program of what he characterized "one of the greatest economic movements in the history of the world—the upbuilding of the Great Southwest."

Mr. Schneider referred to the many thriving and important industries in the territory surrounding the great industrial centers of New York and Chicago and declared the same thing now is in progress in the territory surrounding Los Angeles. In closing the speaker impressed upon his hearers the fact that they and their children are the heirs of the greatest economic movements the world has ever known, the development of the Southwest.

Cecil A. James, editor of the Commercial News and prominent in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, declared the development of Los Angeles Harbor a boon to industry throughout Southern California, and as a concrete instance of this, cited the fact that the Edison Electric Appliance Company of Ontario is with the use of the harbor and the Panama Canal, to manufacture electrical appliances here and lay them down in New England in competition with eastern manufacturers.

Long Beach Plot Owners Fight to Keep Cemetery a Sacred Place

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 16.—The fight to prevent oil drilling on property in the Sunnyside Cemetery, formerly owned by the Cemetery Association, took on added impetus today when owners of cemetery plots subscribed $1100 as the nucleus of a war chest to finance a legal battle.

The property was sold recently by the Cemetery Association to oil operators, who are making preparations to drill. S. A. Decker, secretary of the Cemetery Association, declined to interfere at the plot owners' request, stating that the property was no longer owned by the association and that the purchaser had a right to do with it as he saw fit.

The plot owners, many of whom have relatives buried in the cemetery, which is in the Signal Hill district, are determined that the oil drilling and the proposed drilling shall not be disturbed by oil drilling and have formed an association to combat the move. They have been assured of co-operation by city officials.

There are only two ways of reaching the purchased property, one through the city and the other through city property. The city will refuse an easement, it is said, but cemetery officials have declined to close the cemetery in an attempt to halt the proposed drilling operations.

Peddlers May be Barred From Bakersfield

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 16.—Peddling of every description may be banished from the streets of Bakersfield due to an ordinance being contemplated by the City Council of this city, an ordinance which would banish from the streets of Bakersfield all peddlers of every description. The ordinance is being introduced by Mayor E. L. Houghman, who runs a grocery store. The merchants claim the vendors of fruits and vegetables coming from outside the city are ruining their business.

Objection to the plan has arisen through Councilman Leslie S. Robinson, who said that many of the peddlers had large investments in land adjacent to the city, owned their own trucks and contributed largely to the business life of the city. It is said the peddlers ignore the free market established for them and peddle their goods throughout the residential districts.

Smuggler Suspect's Bail Fixed at $5000; Drug Campaign Continues

Joe Vidal, alias Manuel Sanchez, said to be the most successful smuggler of narcotics on the Mexican border, who was captured in Calexico Sunday by a State Pharmacy Board inspector and Los Angeles police detective, was arraigned in El Centro yesterday on a charge of violating the Harrison Act, and his bail was fixed at $5000.

The complaint, sworn to by Richard Earl, inspector of the State Pharmacy Board, who led the expedition against Vidal, charged him with offering to sell narcotics. Two alleged drug peddlers arrested with Vidal told Inspector Earl and Detective Sergeant Littlejohn and Hamilton that Vidal was in the act of selling them thirty ounces of cocaine when they were captured.

Beneath the bath tub in the house where the trio was captured the officers found $28,000 worth of the drug.

Furniture Firm Buys Shipping Terminal Site

Plans for the erection of a new shipping terminal for Barker Brothers, local furniture firm, were made known yesterday in conjunction with the announcement of the purchase of a site for the new structure. The terminal and garage will be located on Hewitt street, near Palmetto street, and across the street from the four-story warehouse which the firm recently completed. The site and proposed improvements will represent an investment of $125,000. W. H. Daum, local realtor, represented the purchasers.

At present there are a number of small houses on the site, which has a frontage of approximately 200 feet on Hewitt street. It extends through the block to Colyton street and has similar frontage on that street as well.

Track Extension Permit Is Asked by Trolley Line

Relief for mountain-climbing passengers who toll up Second street to Olive street to take a First street car was forecast yesterday when the Los Angeles Railway Company asked the City Council for an ordinance to allow the company to lay tracks on First street to Hill street, and to have a substation at the intersection of First and Hill streets.

At present the First street car turns at the intersection of First and Olive streets, with its terminal at the intersection of Second and Olive streets, necessitating a steep climb over the tunnel site. Laying of track to Hill street will obviate this difficulty.

The railway company also requested a franchise which would permit them to lay a double track from Hoover street to Vermont avenue, in order to straighten out their Seventh street line, which now circles Lafayette Park.

DIRECTORS ARE NAMED BY LEAGUE

Tuberculosis Association Outlines Plans for New Year's Work

Directors of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association met yesterday for the first time this year, at the call of the president, Mrs. J. J. A. Van Kaathoven, and added to the board the names of William May Garland and Dr. Bernard Smith.

The meeting was held in the association's headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building and many plans for the year's work were discussed, with the naming of new committees and other changes.

One of the important steps proposed in the current year's program is the complete reorganization of the clinics under Dr. R. L. Cunningham, chief of clinics, succeeding Dr. Charles C. Browning. The latter, who has served efficiently as chief of staff during the last seven years, remains as a member of the clinic committee and an active member of the staff.

Report was made that the Christmas seal sale had reached a total of $38,418, this report, however, being incomplete since all the returns were not yet in hand.

Wife Agrees to Stop Chewing; Gets Children

Upon her promise to stop chewing and spitting, Judge Sumnerfield awarded to Mrs. Malone B. Bock yesterday the custody of her two children after a bitter court war.

Philip Bock, the husband, in his fight to obtain the possession of the children, testified that his wife chewed spit on the wall, frequently "stepped" out with soldiers and sailors and that he could "stop chewing and spitting" if he could have the children.

Mrs. Bock admitted that she swore occasionally, chewed considerably and went out with the soldiers and sailors but declared that the soldiers and sailors were her cousins. She denied locking the children out of the house, asserting that she always kept them "mighty clean."

Judge Sumnerfield, after inspecting one of the children behind the ear for evidence of dirt, agreed with her and told her that if she could "stop chewing and spitting" she could have the children.

She took a parting shot at her husband with the declaration that "his chewing is an art," after agreeing to abide by the court's admonition.

McCall was employed by F. A. Crist & Son. He recently came to the oil district here from Texas. After the accident he was removed to the Mercy Memorial Hospital, where he died within a few hours.

He leaves his wife and a son, who reside at 4880 Hoover street, Los Angeles.

The Profiteers

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS

John Philip, a young man from New York, who has been in the United States for some time, is a member of the "Profiteers" and is known to the public as a "profiteer". He is a man of many talents and is a member of the "Profiteers" and is known to the public as a "profiteer".

THE PROFITEERS

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

State emptied a glass of wine and leaned forward. "John," he said, relaxing once more into the familiarity of their early college days, "you couldn't have set me a job more to my heart than to have me help in brewing mischief for Peter Phipps. I'm your man, body and soul—you know that. But you've been a good friend to me—almost the only one I ever had—and I've got to put this up to you. Peter Phipps is a clever fellow, a devil. He is up to every trick in this world, and a few that he probably borrowed from Satan himself. I'm not trying to put you off. I only want to say this. Go warily. Don't let him lure you on into making too much of one move. Always remember that he has something up his sleeve."

"That's all right," he said. "I promise you I'll think out every move or the board. I shall risk nothing until I can see my way clear ahead. Meanwhile, you can work on this."

He wrote a few sentences on a sheet of paper, which he folded up and passed across the table. "Don't open it now," he said. "Think it over and don't mind putting suggestions up to me if anything occurs to you. Call here to see me every morning at 10 o'clock. I have a suite in the court, No. 89. We've done this business—do you understand?"

"Sure!" State answered. "Let's talk about that last game you and I were in against Princeton."

CHAPTER V

Josephine received her altogether unexpected visitor that afternoon with a certain amount of trepidation, mingled with considerable distaste. Mr. Peter Phipps, however, went far toward dispelling her misgivings. He was suave, restrained and exceedingly apologetic.

"If I have taken a liberty in coming to see you, Lady Dredlington, without a direct invitation, I am going to apologize right away," he said. "I don't get much of an opportunity with you, and while the others are all around, and I feel this afternoon like taking my chance of finding you at home."

"I am always glad to see my husband's friends," Josephine replied. "As a matter of fact, however, I was surprised to see you because I left word that I was at home to only one caller."

"Fortunate person," Mr. Phipps declared with a sigh. "May I sit down?"

"Certainly," was the somewhat cold assent. "If you really have anything to say to me, perhaps you had better let me know what it is at once."

Peter Phipps was a man whose life had been spent in facing and overcoming difficulties, but as he took the chair to which Josephine had somewhat ungraciously pointed, he was compelled to admit to himself that he was confronted with a task which might well tax his astuteness to the utmost. To begin with, he made use of one of his favorite weapons—silence. He sat quite still, studying the situation, and in those few moments Josephine found herself studying him. He was tall, over six feet, with burly shoulders, a thickset body and legs rather short for his height. He was lean-shaven, his hair was a sandy ray, his complexion florid, his eyes blue and piercing. His upper lip was long, and his mouth, when closed, rather resembled some sort of a trap. He was dressed with care, almost with distinction. But for his pronounced American accent, he would probably have been taken for a Scandinavian.

"Did you come here to improve your acquaintance with the interior of my sitting-room?" Josephine asked, a little irritated at last by his silence.

He shook his head. "I should say not. I came, Lady Dredlington, to talk to you about your husband."

"Then if you will allow me to say so," Josephine replied, "you have come upon a very purposeless errand. I do not discuss my husband with anyone, for reasons which I think we need not go into."

Peter Phipps leaned forward in his chair. It was a favorite attitude of his, and one which had won him many successes. "See here, Lady Dredlington," he began, "you don't like me. That's my misfortune, but it doesn't affect the matter as it stands at present between us. I have a kindly feeling for your husband, and I have a feeling for you which I won't at present presume to refer to."

"Foghorn," Josephine said calmly, "you had better not."

"That feeling," Phipps went on, "has brought me here this afternoon. Your husband is not playing the game with us any more than he is with you."

"What do you know?"

"Let's cut that out, shall we?" he interrupted. "Let's talk like a sensible man and woman. Do you want us to drop your husband out of the B. & L. board?"

"Nothing would give me greater pleasure," Josephine assured him, "I cannot imagine why you ever put him on."

Peter Phipps was a little staggered. "Perhaps you don't know," he said, "that your husband's salary for doing nothing is $4000 a year."

"I suppose you think him worth that," Josephine answered coldly, "or you would not pay it."

"He is worth anything at all," Phipps declared bluntly. "I put him on the board and I am paying him $4000 a year for a reason which I am surprised you have never guessed."

"How on earth should I?" Josephine demanded. "I know nothing whatever about business. On the face of it, I should think you were mad."

"We will leave the reason for Lord Dredlington's appointment alone for the moment," Phipps continued. "I imagined that it would be gratifying to you. I imagined that the $4000 a year would be of some account in your house-keeping."

"You were entirely wrong then," Josephine replied. "Whatever Lord Dredlington may draw from your company, he has kept. Not one penny of it has come to me."

directly or indirectly." Phipps was staggered. He did not doubt for a second, however, that he was listening to the truth. "Say, this is the worst thing I ever heard of," he exclaimed. "Why, what do you suppose your husband does with the money?"

"I have no idea, nor have I any interest," Phipps murmured. "That's bad. Of course, he went on, his eyes narrowing a little as he watched his companion closely, as though to estimate the effect of his words, "of course, I know that Lord Dredlington had other interests in life besides his domestic ones, but I had no idea that he carried things to such a length."

Josephine glanced at the clock. "Will you forgive my saying that up to the present you have not offered me any sufficient explanation as to the reason for your visit?"

"I was coming to it," he assured her. "To tell you the truth, you've rather cut the ground away from under my feet. I was coming to tell you that Lord Dredlington had drawn money from the company to which he was not entitled, besides having done this and that to a considerable extent. The cashier has pointed out to me several irregularities. I came to you to know what I was to do."

"I cannot conceive a person less able to advise you," she answered. "I have said before that my husband's connection with your company is one which I dislike extremely, and I should be delighted to hear that it was ended."

"If it were ended at the present moment," Phipps said slowly, "I would, I fear, be under somewhat painful circumstances."

"What do you mean?" Josephine demanded.

"What I very much hate to put into plain words. Your husband has used money of the company's to which he had no right. I have been paying him $4000 a year, hoping that indirectly I was benefiting you. He has deceived me. I see no reason why I should spare him. The last money he drew from the company—his action in drawing it amounts to a criminal misdemeanor."

"Do you mean that you will prosecute him?"
